Planners seek pit screening

PLEASANTON — The planning commission has written Kaiser San Sand and Gravel and Rhodes and Jamieson requesting the firms to plant a row of eucalyptus trees along Stanley Boulevard.

Chairman Robert Butler took the action after commissioners thought that some of the stark appearance of the local gravel pits may be softened by the visual screen.

A drought may not be the best time to ask the gravel firms to plant trees, but the eucalyptus requires little water, said Butler. The suggestion was proposed

Tree fence would hide quarrying

by Commissioner Bill Jamieson, who thinks that all of the city's entryways should look as attractive as possible.

The Kaiser property is in the city and Rhodes and Jamieson is a neighbor. Commissioner Jamieson is no relation to the gravel company Jamieson.

A similar suggestion arose a few years ago at the city council level when gravel permits were being discussed for the quarries.

James Fales, who was city manager then, noted that the idea had come up perennially, but there were two schools of thought.

The council had required screening along some gravel property, but later the city manager got impromptu complaints that the imposed scenery made motorists curious about what was going on beyond the screen. Maybe it's better just to give motorists an unobstructed view into the pits, Fales recounted

Valley shows marked drop in water use

It's working.

Valley residents are taking measures to conserve water and the people who have the proof are those who monitor the three sewage treatment plants here.

Most dramatic reduction in gal-lonage has occurred at the Valley Community Services District plant where Director of Public Works Doug Nelson reported a drop of 400,000 gallons per day. Half of the district is San Ramon where residents are under an order from East Bay Regional Municipal Utilities District to conserve water.

The lower flow also reflects voluntary conservation efforts in the district, said Nelson. He hopes residents keep it up because by summer the Valley may have to rely entirely on local wells and they are not inexhaustible.

DOUG NELSON

In Pleasanton, where there is plenty of water underground, "enough for the next 10 years", local residents apparently are pitching in anyway with water conservation measures. The flow into the city's plan sewer plant on Sunol Boulevard has dropped more than 100,000 gallons per day, from 1.36 million gallons per day for the first 18 days in January to 1.22 mgd for the first 18 days this month.

The Livermore plant has dropped 400,000 gallons from 5.5 mgd for the first nine days in January to 5.1 for the first nine days this month. Both figures are over the legally allowed limit of 4.8 mgd, but some of it got counted twice because the effluent gets shunted off to holding ponds during peak flow hours and is treated later.

A spokesperson at the Livermore plant said that the 400,000 gallon drop is within the normal variation for any month at the plant. It will take three or four months before one can tell if there is a real drop in water usage, judging by effluent flow, said the spokesperson.

Teachers' vote near in Amador

Amador school district teacher unit leadership is "pleased" with an administration proposal granting $140,000 in the form of increments Friday, but feels there are an untold number of strings attached.

Dave Woolworth, president of the Amador Valley Secondary Educators Association, said a general membership meeting Tuesday afternoon to consider a strike vote will definitely go on.

Superintendent Bruce Newlin and Amador board president Wally Decker, at the same time, said an appeal to a court decision that unlocks a salary "freeze" will still be completed.

Board members, at a special closed session Friday morning, decided to offer a partial settlement to the stalled negotiations by releasing the increments and professional growth money.

Decker said "The release of this money, amounting to approximately $140,000 or equivalent to a 3.7 per cent teachers' salary increase, is being granted as a good faith gesture on the part of the Amador Valley Joint Union High School District and with the understanding that the school district retains the right to appeal adverse decisions of the court."

"We have to be pleased with the district wanting to grant the step and column increases, but there are about 100 strings attached," charged Woolworth. "I'm very concerned about what they're trying to do. This could have been done two or three days ago...and we could have taken this to the membership."

Instead, Woolworth called John Muir at the California Teachers Association office in Burlingame and read him the text of the "tentative agreement" presented to AVSEA at noon Friday.

The six-part agreement asked for the signatures of board and AVSEA representatives.

On the same agreement form, the "board position" is stated with regard to their latest action and the negotiations process as a whole.

Woolworth said the agreement could not be considered until first reviewed by CTA attorneys and/or private counsel.

Tradition in question

Fair parade needs promoters

If there is to be a parade at County Fair time this June, the City of Pleasanton and/or civic groups such as the chamber and Jaycees will have to initiate and organize the effort.

This is the implication of a County Fair board entertainment committee recommendation of the past week.

The panel will recommend the association participate only if the city and such civic groups provide organizational and financial support.

With the apparent demise of the "Good Times" parade, the decades-old Fair event is now the only major Pleasanton parade remaining. The '76 event, for which the association gave $2,500, was organized by the

Leeann McFadden

Pleasanton Bicentennial Committee

Leeann McFadden of that group, a prime organizer along with Jaycees of past parades, has indicated a similar group might be willing to organize and direct a parade this coming June.

Entertainment committee members also discussed prospective headline acts for this summer's Fair. The panel, after reviewing acts available and their respective costs, will contact about 10 agencies to secure both "name" and supporting acts for appearances in the Amphitheatre.

Recommendations of the committee, chaired by Richard McCarthy, will go to the full board at its next meeting March 8.

Hit-run case reveals aid available from state

PLEASANTON — Freya Wil-motte has a genuine hard luck story to tell, but she isn't looking for sympathy.

She agreed to talk to a reporter about her hit - run accident early last year to publicize a little known state fund that may help others if they are ever in similar pain and financial insecurity.

Wil-motte was the victim of a crime — two crimes really — last January, and sustained such terrible injuries she still has not been able to work, or even move comfortably. As recently as a few months ago, her doctor gave her only a 50 - 50 chance of keeping her right leg, which is in its 14th cast.

The outlook for the leg is better, but Wil-motte has been so strapped financially by the hit - run driver who left her wounded on the Stanley Boulevard pavement near Shadow Cliffs Park that she is moving to Idaho where the equity from selling her local home can stretch her budget further.

When drivers stop after hitting a pedestrian, an insurance company can make compensation to the victim, but in Wil-motte's case the driver of the Volkswagen that fateful January 5 evening last year never stopped. He or she did not even have the car lights on and probably was drunk. Not much better behaved than the youths in the back of a pickup truck who a few minutes earlier had thrown rocks on the road in front of Wil-motte's car. One of the rocks bounced and shattered the windshield.

Wil-motte stopped her car since she couldn't see out the windshield and walked across the Stanley Boulevard to a small hut to phone police about the youths and her own problem. Halfway across the road, she was hit by the lightless Volkswagen.

She has not been able to work since. Divorced and the mother of three, she didn't know what to do until a friend told her about a state law which makes up to $10,000 available to victims of crime for salary compensation, medical expenses, and rehabilitation.

She was grateful for the money, but it was slow in coming from the state. She had to borrow from friends and the Red Cross helped the family. She would like to see faster service from the state and a lifting of the $10,000 limit, which she feels works a hardship on people like her who are injured for a long period of time.

Submit top recipes for prizes

Entry deadline is Feb. 25 for the popular Favorite Recipe contest run by The Times.

Residents of Alameda and Contra Costa counties may submit recipes for their favorite dishes, and compete for more than $250 in grocery certificates offered as rewards. Grand prize is $50 worth of certificates.

List all ingredients in order, followed by concise directions for everything from snacks and appetizers to that special dessert.

Originality will be a factor in the judging.

Mail entries to "The Times Recipe Contest," P.O. Box 607, Pleasanton, Ca., 94566. Winning recipes will be published in The Times' Favorite Recipe Section, March 15.

Two prizes will be awarded in the following categories, snacks and appetizers, soups and stews, breads and coffee cakes, vegetables and salads, super sandwiches, meat, seafood, poultry, cookies, cakes and candies, puddings, pies and all other desserts.

For further details, see the ad running inside today's Times.

Holiday closures

Alameda and Contra Costa County and City offices will be closed Monday in honor of Presidents Day Holiday.

Libraries, schools, chambers of commerce and most banks will be closed on that day.

Most grocery stores will be open but hours may vary.

The Times' editorial, classified and circulation offices will be open.

Dublin carnival okayed

Dublin Plaza merchants have won county approval for their annual March carnival.

County zoning administrator Dick Flynn issued a conditional use permit covering the March 7 through 13 fete. He said the sheriff's and health departments as well as the highway patrol voiced no objection to the event.

The Dublin Plaza Merchant's Association will post a $1 million liability insurance policy to cover the event, said Flynn.

It will be held near the Mervyn's store at Amador Valley Boulevard and Regional Street.

Sunol Glen trustees

Appointment of candidates to the Sunol Glen school board is included in the Tuesday evening agenda of the Sunol Glen Board of Trustees.

With only two candidates, incumbents Jim Ackerman and David Hoxie, for the two positions to be open, the district is the only one in the Valley with no contest per se.

The board will also hear a final report on bus specifications and Title IV-B. Trustees will study and act on turf maintenance and a conflict of interest policy.

CC supes extend hours

One Contra Costa County supervisor will be open nights and another will have two offices and a toll-free telephone number.

Supervisor Robert Schroder of Walnut Creek will keep his office in Lafayette open until 9 p.m. starting March 3.

And fellow supervisor Eric Hasseltine will have an office in Danville open on Wednesdays and Thursdays for the benefit of his San Ramon Valley constituents.

Schroder said he will be open nights for the benefit of commuting constituents.

Toll hike hearings

Public hearings on the Metropolitan Transportation Commission's proposal for an increase in bridge tolls will start Wednesday.

That hearing is set for 11 a.m. at Bay Area Rapid Transit headquarters, 800 Madison St., Oakland.

A hearing will be held in Contra Costa March 10 at 8 p.m. at the Contra Costa Water District offices, 1331 Concord Ave., Concord.

The hearings will also include proposed revisions to the MTC's regional transportation plan.

Caution stressed on water

East Bay Municipal Utilities District officials stressed caution last week over announcement of that 67 - million gallon per day water wind-fall from the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation.

It was a 'godsend,' officials conceded, but it won't solve all of the district's drought problems.

EBMUD services much of the East Bay, including a segment of San Ramon.

For details, see page 20.

UC's Roth dies

University of California quarterback Joe Roth died Saturday at his apartment here after a long fight against a rare form of cancer, the University of California Medical Center spokesman reported.

The spokesman said Roth, 21, died at 3:55 p.m., surrounded by his family, friends and Cal Coach Mike White.

Car burglarized, vandalized on Mines Road

LIVERMORE — A borrowed car parked on Mines Road near the Del Valle Reservoir Sunday sustained heavy vandalism and the theft of $400 of valuables, police report.

A friend borrowed Jeff Richards' car Sunday and parked it at the Mines Road location. When the car was picked up later, all the windows had been broken out, wires and hoses had been ripped from the engine, and the car ransacked.

Motorcycle handlebars, tools and a jacket valued at approximately $400 were taken. Two fingerprints were lifted from the car.

Tilling discs taken from field

PLEASANTON — Two tilling discs valued at $700 were removed from a field near the end of West Los Positas recently, police report.

Lee George Vinson of Dublin said the discs had been stored in the field for at least two weeks. There are no suspects.

Hickory Lane home burglarized of valuables

DUBLIN — Burglars apparently entered an unlocked side garage door and removed goods from Nancy Ronda's Hickory Lane home early Monday, deputies report.

Missing items include a television, two cameras, projector and a toolbox. There are no suspects.

Stereo taken from Jensen Street Nursery School

LIVERMORE — A $250 stereo system was taken from the Jensen Street Nursery School last week, police reported.

Loris Ann Thomsen told officers that burglars apparently got in through a broken-out window opening. Missing is a Sears brand am/fm/phone system. There are no suspects.

Car burglarized on Fallon Road

LIVERMORE — Burglars broke out the driver's side window to enter Evelyn Bankhead's car Sunday and stole $530 in valuables, deputies report.

The car was parked on Fallon near Croak Road when the burglary occurred. Missing items include a camera, tennis racquet and wallet. There are no suspects.

House burglarized during 75 minute absence

PLEASANTON — Burglars entered an unlocked door to a Greenfield Way home last week, ransacked it and stole a $240 flute during a 75-minute period while the owner was away, police report.

Patrick Golden reported the theft of the flute Friday. Police lifted several fingerprints from the scene.

Valley obituaries

James Rogers

Friends are invited to attend services Tuesday at 10 a.m. in the Graham - Hitch Mortuary Chapel, 675 St. John Street, Pleasanton. Burial will follow in Memory Gardens Cemetery, Livermore.

Marla Scott

Funeral services will be held tomorrow for Marla Christine (Manos) Scott, 21, who died accidentally on Feb. 11 near Terrijon Air Force Base, Madrid, Spain. She is survived by husband Sgt. Dale E. Scott of Eurovillas, Spain; parents Chris and Beverly Manos, Dublin; sister Lisa and brother James Manos, both of Dublin.

She also leaves in-laws

Fred and Wanda Scott, also of Dublin.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Monday, in the chapel of the Callaghan Mortuary, 3833 East Ave., Livermore, followed by burial in Memory Gardens Cemetery.

Etta Simonsen

PLEASANTON — Etta M. Simonsen, 82, died at her Pleasanton home on Friday, Feb. 18.

A native of Salinas, she had been a resident of the Valley for 75 years and was a member of the Danneberg Lodge No. 16 of Livermore for 52 years.

Survivors include her husband, Chris Simonsen of Pleasanton; two daughters, Mel Rose Madsen of Oakland and Loretta Pelley of San Leandro; one stepson, Richard Simonsen of Pleasanton; a stepdaughter, Mary Paslay of Pleasanton, three grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Services will be held Tuesday, Feb. 22, at 1 p.m., in the Callaghan Mortuary Chapel, Livermore. Interment will follow in Memory Gardens Cemetery, Livermore.

LAVWMA fights deadlines

Pipeline proponents ask support

Valley officials may again choose a pipeline project to dump sewage into north San Francisco Bay due to unmercifully tight deadlines, it was revealed Thursday night.

That same project was defeated by Valley voters Nov. 2 when it was estimated to cost $28 million. The revised project with a capacity reduced by 20 per cent is now estimated at $44 million.

Only two other alternatives exist. Both are export lines to different locations, cost more than the first concept, and do not include reclamation.

Directors of the Livermore - Amador Valley Water Management Agency (LAVWMA) were told by the project's chief management consultant, John Davis of the Association of Bay Area Governments (ABAG), that necessary environmental documents for export lines to San Francisco Bay would take four to six months.

This would put extreme pressure on engineers attempting to design the project in time to beat Sept. 30 grant funding deadlines. If approved by that date, state and federal funds would pay 87.5 per cent of project costs.

That delay would also anger the Regional Water Quality Control Board, which imposed a ban on additional sewer connections until the Valley finds a sewage disposal alternative. Currently, we dump wastewater into Alameda Creek, where it flows downstream and pollutes the underground fresh water supplies of Fremont.

Roger James, staff engineer for the RWQCB, objected to delaying project decisions any longer. "You've already violated the first three deadlines set down by the board," James said.

Under terms of the ban, RWQCB directors agreed to consider relief if a project was chosen by Jan. 15, design work began Jan. 21, and an alternative financing method was assured by Feb. 1. If LAVWMA directors decide to consider the two alternative routes, a fourth deadline,

Weird weather covers Valley with smog mix

The same weather conditions that have wrapped the Bay Area in the second annual California drought also blanket it in an unseasonal smog.

But Valley critics may take heart in the thought that at least some of the local pollutants are, for once, being exported.

A weird "winter mix" of pollutants — suspended particles, nitrogen dioxide and carbon monoxide — are being whipped through the Valley by weak winds from the east, with some spilling over into neighboring Santa Clara County.

Unfortunately, those same winds, described by one air pollution official as "just sort of sloshing around," are carrying Stock-ton's smog into the Valley.

The net effect is unknown, although, "If anything, you might be getting more smog in than you're sending out," said Bay Area Air Pollution Control District spokesman Paul Brand.

A "strong, persistent ridge of high pressure" sitting off the California coast is "blocking the rain and wind that are normal in this season," he said.

And it's that by now infamous high pressure ridge that causes both the drought and the summer-like smog. The air, quite simply, is not being washed.

With the high pressure comes a heat inversion — hot air on top — that traps pollutants on the ground.

The suspended particles, minute specks of dust and smoke, have cut visibility down to four or five miles at times, according to Brand.

Friday's readings showed a marked improvement to 20 miles visibility from the Livermore Airport, but one five miles from San Francisco.

But that brown haze that hovers over the Valley each morning is from nitrogen dioxide.

Higher humidity in the mornings produces the worst "smog." As the humidity drops — it falls to the mid-20s by 4 p.m. — the skies appear to clear.

"The 24-hour standard for the particulates and the eight - hour standard for the carbon monoxide are often exceeded," said Brand, "but alert levels were not approached."

Gas laser missing in Livermore

LIVERMORE — A $2500 gas laser used to align ceilings in new construction was stolen from a First Street construction site Wednesday, police said Friday.

Det. Dave Hollander said the laser is harmless, although eye damage might result if one stared into the light source for a prolonged period.

The helium - neon plasma tube device was being used at the site of a planned roller rink on First Street. Hutka Construction Co. officials said the laser was probably taken from the bed of a pick-up truck.

It is stored in a black storage case and resembles a toolbox, Hollander said. "Rotolite Building Laser" is inscribed on the handle, with serial number 646 located elsewhere on the machine.

The unit operates on household current or batteries, and could cause electric shock if opened when plugged in.

Anyone seeing a device resembling the laser is requested to contact Hollander at 443-0111.

Hit-run case told

"There should not be a limit on it; they should pay you your salary for as long as you are unable to work," said Wilmotte.

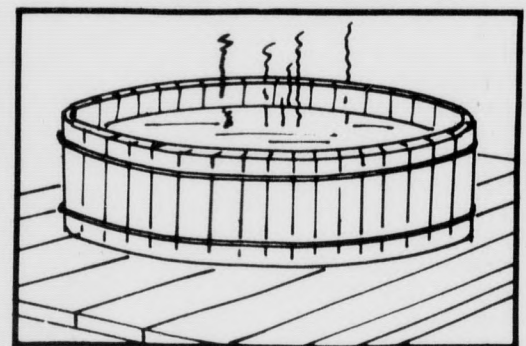

Alameda County District Attorney's Investigator Harold Bosovich told The Times that Wilmotte's case was unique both in its hard luck and long period of convalescence. Most crime victims have been compensated adequately in spite of the $10,000 limit, said Bosovich. He felt the slow speed for payments was inexcusable and could be remedied by giving the state department in charge of the payments a bigger staff, including its own investigators. Currently the department borrows investigators from the attorney general's office.

Bosovich noted the Legislature has declared April 22-29 as "Sympathy for Victims of Crime" week, but there was no word of any more than the current $5.7 million being allocated for the crime victims fund.

Valley's jazz units eye Reno

Jazz groups at three Amador Valley high schools have engagements scheduled for mid-March dates.

The Foothill High and Amador Valley High jazz bands will be attending the Reno International Jazz Festival on March 11, 12, and 13. The Reno festival is one of the oldest jazz competitions for young musicians and is sponsored by the University of Nevada, Reno.

Amador Valley High jazz bands have attended for over 10 years and have received superior ratings and some solo awards but as yet, have not been awarded one of the four trophies available to the 200 groups which participate in the competition.

The Dublin High jazz band will play for dancers at the Tom Hart Memorial Fund dinner dance on Saturday, March 19 at Sunol Valley Golf Course clubhouse.

Coming up, one patio!

The students and staff at Wells School on Penn Drive in Dublin will soon have a large, new patio for both class and extracurricular activities. Under the direction of teacher Steve Davies and district maintenance personnel, students are helping build the 60-by-25 foot patio. Students were also involved in planning for the new area. Wells is a seventh-eighth grade school in the Murray School District.

Livermore trustees ponder teachers' summer salaries

LIVERMORE — School board members are gingerly holding off for "more information" before making a decision on teachers' summer school salaries for this year.

Despite urging by Superintendent of Schools Leo Croce that summer school planning is already a month behind schedule, the four trustees agreed to put off until Tuesday night a decision that could have been made this past Tuesday. A committee composed of trustee Betty Carrell, teachers association president Barbara Brunke, summer school lead teacher Chuck Hazen, principal Bob Hill, teacher Sheila Coope and summer school principal Monty Reitz recommended that teachers continue to be paid on an hourly basis while they had been making during the regular school year.

Superintendent of Schools Leo Croce disagreed with the report, suggesting instead that teachers receive 80 percent of their pro-rated pay because they have fewer responsibilities in summer. Cutting them back, he said, would save the district $32,000.

Croce's suggestion was received with protests from teachers that the quality of summer school would suffer, fewer children would come to the vacation sessions and the district in the end would net less than the $135,000 profit they realized last year.

Jim Coelho, head of the agriculture department at Livermore High, said his staff supervises students all day at the county fair, confers with parents and brings back prizes in every category, year after year, thanks to their unstinting work.

If anything, responsibility is greater when a teacher is overseeing students outside of the classroom and seeing as many as 150 parents a day, he pointed out.

"Do you pay your administrators less in summer because the students aren't there?" he demanded.

Teacher Roland Carlson outlined the numerous things he does at his own expense for the Sierra Ecology summer course he teaches: transporting students at his own expense, developing a curriculum on his own time, taking slides and having a slide show in his home at the end of the course, for example.

Smith School teacher Linda Huggins added there are still informal parent conferences; more work in the classroom than ever before due to classes loaded with 45 students; and plenty of outside-of-school planning.

Trustee Jim Davis was reluctant to cut salaries, because, he said, "It gives the appearance of penalizing a successful program."

Four Granada scholars to compete in BofA tests

LIVERMORE — Four students from Granada High School have been selected to compete in Bank of America's 1977 achievement awards program, principal Jack Snodgrass announced today.

Top-ranking students include: John Pfeiffer, science and math; Benjamin Belzer, liberal arts; Laura Hamilton, fine arts; and Linda Holdener, vocational arts.

In addition, 11 other students received certificates of merit for superior performance in specific study fields. They are:

Rebecca Homan, art; Sherri Moebus, drama; Roy Solorio, music; Karen Sanderson, English; Catherine Lane, foreign languages; Paul Hurdlow, social studies; Jeffrey Mackanic, laboratory science; Scott Rychnovsky, math; Patricia Ratcliff, business; Anne Menard, home economics; and Terri Tihalsky, trades and industrial.

Dublin High to welcome new students

DUBLIN — Dublin High School will host eighth grade parents and students from their feeder area at an orientation to the high school program Wednesday, Feb. 23 at 7:30 p.m. in the Little Theater.

The evening's program has three main purposes: To become acquainted with the Dublin High School staff, campus and curriculum, to ask questions regarding total school operation and to meet and confer with the student's counselor.

Leading off the program will be a general information meeting in the Little Theater. This will be followed by a tour of each department where parents and students can see classes in operation or view a demonstration or exhibit of course work. Concluding the program, parents and students will have the opportunity to meet with their assigned counselor where questions and concerns may be discussed regarding course choices and school operation.

Youth trip to Europe scheduled

Sigrid Rainer, a languages teacher at Tracy High School, is organizing a Western Civilization Tour to Europe this summer for high school and college-age students.

The group will be in Europe from June 21 through July 26 and visit such cities as London, Paris, Florence, Rome, Venice, Munich, Copenhagen, and Amsterdam. Four units of college credit will be available through Cal State Hayward.

For further information and applications, call Sigrid Rainer in Livermore at 447-7630, after 4 p.m.

Pleasanton trustee race

Candidates to speak

The date of one of two candidates nights currently scheduled for Pleasanton school district trustee candidates has been changed to Monday, Feb. 28 at Valley View School.

Candidates vying for the three positions to be open on the board at the March 8 elections are Earnestine Schneider, James Griffen, Nancy Hawtrey, Ronald Ott, Dennis Reidy, and Al Dutchover.

The Feb. 28 forum will be co-sponsored by the Valley View and Vintage Hills PTAs and starts at 7:30 p.m.

Candidates are also scheduled to make presentations at Harvest Park School Thursday, March 3 at 7:30 p.m. Aspirants for the Amador Valley Joint High School District board will speak starting at 9.

The Pleasanton board hopefuls have also been invited to make brief presentations after Mass at St. Augustine's on Sunday, March 6 — at approximately 10 and 11:30 a.m.

Patrick Neil Althizer, candidate for the San Ramon Valley Unified School District board, says more local government bodies and school boards should say "no."

"At the last (San Ramon) school board meeting," states Althizer, "Dan Boatwright cautioned local government bodies and those of us soon to be trustees to learn how to say 'no.' As a business person, I have to use that word quite often. And as a board member, I won't hesitate to use that word when dealing with the first proposal of the SRV teacher's association contract."

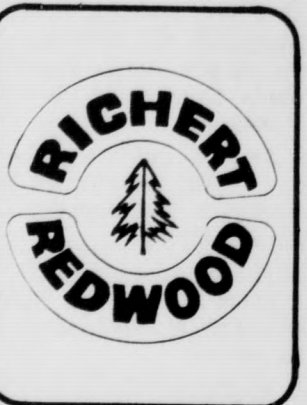

"I would say 'no' to: Article III-8 Definition: Immediate family means ANY relative of the teacher. Article VI-9 Negative or derogatory material in a teacher's personnel file shall be destroyed after remaining in the file for a period of one year. Article VII-1 The association and its members shall have the right at no cost to make use of school equipment, buildings, and facilities at all reasonable hours. Such equipment shall include typewriters, mimeographing machines, other duplicating equipment, calculating machines, and all types of audio-visual equipment when such equipment is not otherwise in use.

"Article IX-5 Test results of academic progress of students shall not be used in any way as evaluation of the quality of a teacher's service or fitness for retention. Article XVII-5 Extra-curricular duties shall be voluntary and the teacher shall be paid at twice his/her regular hourly rate. Article XVIII-3 Unused sick leave shall accrue from school year to school year. Article XVIII-7 Unused personal necessity leave shall be credited to a teacher's unused sick leave account at the end of each school year."

Althizer adds, "Attitude as a qualification is more important than any other board member trait."

SR school announces promotion winners

SAN RAMON — Patti Blume, who admits she never previously won anything in her life, is a real winner now, thanks to daughter Nancy and the Country Club School Parent-Faculty Association.

Mrs. Blume was named winner on Valentine's Day of a trip for two to The Highlands Inn in Carmel, the top prize in the association's Sweetheart Sweepstakes.

And she did it with just one ticket purchased by Nancy, a sixth grader at the school!

The Sweepstakes was organized by Suzanne Epron who arranged for all the prizes.

Proceeds from the Sweepstakes — about $400 — will go towards projects at the school which are assisted by the PFA. A major project being considered is a reading room.

Other winners were: Becky Dellanini, dinner

Patti Blume, center, displays the winning ticket along with Dorothy Rivers, president of the Country Club PFA. Nancy Blume holds Sweetheart Sweepstakes sign announcing event.

for two donated by Dan McGrew's in Danville; Vicki Williams, dinner for two at The Refectory in Dublin, paid for by the PFA; Bud Branch, two tickets for the San Francisco Symphony, donated by Eller Outdoor Advertising of Oakland; C. Hughes, 10 gallons of gas donated by Village Commons Exxon; Mary Orr, two tickets to a Golden State Warriors game donated anonymously; Vera Brown, a bottle of wine donated anonymously; Steve Denny, five pounds of See's candy. Also winners of two-pound boxes of candy from See's were Sheri Erskine, E. Bregman, Joyce Fahey, Roy Fields, M. Loustaldt, Kathy Guzy, Liz Baumgartner, Sue Pulice, N. Ripley, and Vera Hampy.

Schools chief search mapped in Murray

A local advisory committee, to aid in the selection of a superintendent for the Murray School District, still awaits selection of two parents to round out the group.

At a Parent-Administrative Council meeting Thursday, members discussed formation of the panel and met Dr. Donald Leu, a consultant hired by the Murray school board to seek out applicants for superintendent.

The local advisory committee will be composed of two representatives each of administration, classified and certificated and two parents.

The Parent-Administrative Council decided to schedule another meeting, for Thursday, Feb. 24 at 8 p.m. at Frederiksen School, in hopes more parents would turn out so a final selection could be made.

The committee would work with Leu during the next three months to obtain the best candidates possible for the position of superintendent.

The council also learned that recently-appointed business manager Darrel Carter will assume duties March 1.

Carter has served as business manager of the John Swett Unified School District the past three years. He previously served as an administrative assistant on the business affairs staff at San Jose State University from 1968 to 1973 and was a sporting goods store manager in Santa Clara from 1966 to 1968.

He was born in San Rafael and attended college at College of Marin and San Jose State, obtaining a degree in administration and accounting from the latter institution.

Carter replaces Phillip Chubb who left the district in November. He will start at $25,548 a year.

Newly-appointed Murray business manager Darrel Carter.

Sixth graders offered unique crafts choices

DUBLIN — Some of the fanciest printing this side of a lithographer is being turned out by sixth graders at Frederiksen School.

It's all part of an elective program at the kindergarten through sixth grade school, which will also feature classes in leather crafts, needlepoint, and printing.

Jim Gahl was instrumental in placing calligraphy, the art of stylized writing that goes back to the gothic ages, as part of the elective program at Frederiksen.

The class will be instructed by Bill Randol, a design artist and parent of one of the students.

"We had completed a unit on perspective," says Gahl, "and the kids seemed quite interested. Then I found out that the father of one boy is a design artist. He had been in the classroom once to discuss one-point perspective and I thought, in looking back, that he would be the ideal person to instruct them in calligraphy."

Students in the class are working from a book entitled "Italic Calligraphy and Handwriting."

They will learn various techniques and Randol and Gahl will introduce the alphabet in stages. One of their projects will be doing name cards, using the stylized writing.

Gahl will also instruct the leather craft class while Nancy McGuire is working with those interested in needlepoint and Joan Ernst in printing.

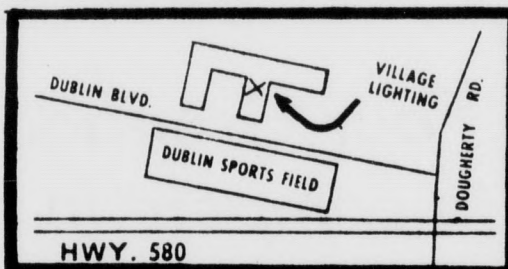

Frederiksen has had elective programs in past years, but this is the initial exposure for calligraphy.

Bill Randol instructs Monica Hash in art of calligraphy.

TAXPAYERS: IS THIS THE KIND OF LEADERSHIP
YOU ARE PAYING OVER $52,000 A YEAR FOR? *

STATEMENT OF NO CONFIDENCE

Traditionally the teachers of this District have expected and received of their Superintendent a high degree of educational leadership. They have dealt impartially and professionally with the various segments of the educational community; they have dealt fairly with the Board, administrators, teachers, and students alike. There was never any doubt as to their goal: a smoothly functioning and issues has resulted in their degeneration into major crises.

However, over the past two years it has become evident that the formerly excellent relationships between District administrators and teachers have been deteriorating. In addition, the Superintendent's failure to actively deal fairly and impartially with minor problems and issues has resulted in their degeneration into major crises.

We, the teachers of this District sign this letter of no confidence in Dr. Bruce C. Newlin to voice our concern over his failure to demonstrate an active and personal commitment to the restoration of more harmonious relationships within our educational environment. By his demonstrated indifference to the legitimate concerns of teachers and their legally guaranteed right to bargain for just and equitable conditions of work, he has failed to provide the high quality of educational leadership which we have come to expect.

*Including $16,000 a year for a professional negotiator to handle the Superintendent's ordinary, already paid negotiating responsibility; plus a free luxury car, all paid for at taxpayers' expense.

Welcome Chinese New Year with stir-fry

With the current Oriental influence in the kitchen, the familiar refrain, "What's Cooking?" could be changed to "Wok's cooking?" Even if you don't own a wok, the large pan with a curved bottom used by many Chinese cooks, it's easy to create quick stir-fry dishes in a skillet.

To save time, many experienced Chinese cooks stir together standard sauce ingredients like soy sauce, corn starch and sherry, before storing the mixture in a tightly sealed jar in the refrigerator.

Using the mix for the marinade as well as the sauce, it takes only a short time to concoct a stir-fry dish. While the meat is marinating, the vegetables can be prepared. Following the Chinese technique, cut them into uniform sizes and shapes for even cooking. Once the meat and vegetables are ready, it's a matter of minutes until dinner is served.

The Oriental sauce mix recipe was developed in the Karo corn syrup kitchens, corn syrup being used to impart a sweetness as well as a smoothness to the sauce. The mix is sufficient for cooking up three Chinese dishes. The main course dishes will serve two, or when the Chinese tradition is followed and there is more than one main dish, they will serve four.

What better way to usher in the Chinese New Year this holiday weekend?

BY VARYING the meat and vegetables each time you cook Chinese, you can create a variety of dishes with this Oriental Sauce Mix. The sauce contains corn syrup, soy sauce and other readily available ingredients.

ORIENTAL SAUCE MIX

- 1/2 cup dark corn syrup
- 1/2 cup soy sauce
- 1/4 cup cornstarch
- 1/4 cup white vinegar
- 1/4 cup dry sherry
- 1 teaspoon garlic powder
- 2 cups beef broth

In 1-quart jar stir together corn syrup, soy sauce and cornstarch. Stir in vinegar, sherry, garlic powder and beef broth. Add water to make 3 3/4 cups. Cover jar and store in refrigerator. Shake before using. Makes 3 3/4 cups or enough for 3 Oriental main dishes and 1 Oriental vegetable dish.

ORIENTAL VEGETABLES

- 3 tablespoons corn oil
- 1 small green pepper seeded, cut into 1/2 by 2-inch pieces
- 1 small onion, cut into rings
- 3/4 cup sliced mushrooms, or 1 can (4 ounce) sliced mushrooms, drained
- 2 cups sliced cabbage
- 2/3 cup Oriental Sauce Mix (recipe follows)

In wok or large skillet heat oil over medium-high heat. Add green peppers, onion and mushrooms. Cook, stirring constantly, 2-3 minutes or until onion is soft and transparent. Add cabbage; stir until green pepper is tender crisp and cabbage is limp. Add Oriental Sauce Mix and cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens and vegetables are glazed. Makes 2 servings.

ORIENTAL BEEF AND VEGETABLES

- 1 cup thinly sliced flank steak (about 1/2 pound)
- 1 cup Oriental Sauce Mix (recipe follows)
- 1/4 cup corn oil
- 1 cup match stick-size carrot pieces
- 1 cup 1/4-inch thick zucchini slices

In small bowl marinate beef in 1/2 cup Oriental Sauce Mix 30 minutes. Drain meat, reserving marinade. In wok or large skillet heat 2 tablespoons of the oil over medium-high heat. Add carrot sticks and cook 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Add zucchini and cook, stirring constantly, until tender crisp. Remove vegetables from skillet. Heat remaining 2 tablespoons of the oil in the skillet. Add beef and cook, stirring, 3 minutes or until beef is browned. Return vegetables to skillet. Add reserved marinade and remaining 1/2 cup Oriental Sauce Mix. Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens and beef mixture is glazed. Serve over hot, fluffy rice. Makes 2 servings.

SWEET AND SOUR PORK

- 1 cup thinly sliced boneless pork (about 1/2 pound)
- 1 cup Oriental Sauce Mix (recipe follows)
- 1/4 cup corn oil
- 1 small onion, cut into 8 wedges
- 1 small green pepper, cut into 1-inch squares
- 1 can (8 1/4 ounce) pineapple chunks packed in heavy syrup
- 1 teaspoon sesame seed (optional)

In small bowl marinate pork in 1/2 cup Oriental Sauce Mix 30 minutes.

Drain pork, reserving marinade. In wok or large skillet heat 2 tablespoons of the oil over medium-high heat. Add onion and pepper. Cook, stirring constantly, until onion is transparent and pepper is tender. Remove onion and pepper from skillet. In same skillet heat remaining 2 tablespoons of oil. Add pork and cook, stirring, 5 minutes. Return onions and peppers to skillet. Add pineapple chunks with syrup, reserved meat marinade and remaining 1/2 cup Oriental Sauce Mix. Heat, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens and meat mixture is glazed. Serve over hot, fluffy rice. If desired, sprinkle with sesame seed. Makes 2 servings.

ORIENTAL CHICKEN CASHEW

- 1/2 raw boneless chicken breast thinly sliced (1 cup)
- 1 cup Oriental Sauce Mix (recipe follows)
- 1/4 cup corn oil
- 1 cup cut green beans (1-inch pieces)
- 1 can (8 ounce) water chestnuts, sliced
- 1/2 cup dry roasted cashew nuts

In small bowl marinate sliced chicken in 1/2 cup Oriental Sauce Mix 30 minutes. Drain chicken, reserving marinade. In wok or large skillet heat 2 tablespoons of the oil over medium-high heat. Add green beans, water chestnuts and cashew nuts. Cook, stirring constantly, until green beans are tender crisp. Remove vegetables and nuts from skillet. In same skillet, heat remaining 2 tablespoons of the oil. Add chicken and cook, stirring again, 3 minutes. Return vegetables and nuts to skillet. Add reserved marinade and remaining 1/2 cup Oriental Sauce Mix. Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens and chicken mixture is glazed. Served over hot fluffy rice. Makes 2 servings.

Young essayist honored by DAR

In honor of American History Month the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR) sponsored an essay contest for students in grades fifth through eighth in valley schools.

The Jose Maria Amador Chapter recently made presentation of an award to contest-winner Michael Wondolowski, a seventh grader at St. Michael's School in Livermore.

Chairman of the program was Mrs. Charles F. Mahler, Jr. The contest involved six months of coordination, and judges included the chairman, editor of a valley newspaper, and another valley journalist.

A committee of the National Society DAR works to obtain passage of a congressional resolution for national observance of American History Month.

Chalk demo

Pam Della will demonstrate her technique, which employs oil pastel chalk and india ink on rough matt board, before members of the Pleasanton Art League Monday, Feb. 21.

The public is welcome to the 7:30 p.m. program at the Pleasanton Cultural Arts Center on Black Avenue.

The india ink creates shadow values, and the matt produces a textured quality in her finished compositions.

Bridge bonanza!

Bright paper flowers that presage spring will set a gay mood for the bridge luncheon planned by Janet Stevenson, Vange Jones and Marallis Pederson of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority March 3 at Castlewood Country Club from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. In keeping with the sorority's national goal of supporting rehabilitation programs, the local chapter will donate all proceeds to the Garnet Austin Center in Livermore, which provides a workshop for mentally retarded adults. Tickets at $6 per person must be reserved through Mary Stavros at 846-1993 by Feb. 28.

Raymond's fund compromise

Alameda County Bureau

OAKLAND — Battle lines between the county taxpayers association and community based social service groups were drawn this week in a fight over $5.2 million in federal "counter cyclical" funding.

But under the "reluctant" prodding of county supervisor Valerie Raymond, the board is working on a compromise between the two.

The community based groups — in the Valley the Dublin Hotline and the Pleasanton Health Care Center — complain of short term, three - month funding by the board, and the perennial lack of money.

The bulk of the funds go to programs in the east and central county, especially in the East Oakland and Berkeley ghettos.

But the Alameda County Taxpayers Association charges "the so - called property tax relief" offered under revenue sharing "has been gobbled up" by the groups, according to executive vice president Jim Garrett.

Raymond's proposal, weaker than the full funding supervisor John George wants, would give long term contracts to the community based groups using the one - time - only $5.2 million in counter - cyclical funding.

Some $6.1 million would go toward property tax relief. Another $250,000 in revenue sharing money that had been earmarked for improvements at the Santa Rita jail's booking station would revert to the community based groups. That funding should come from capital improvements, said Raymond.

"I feel a great deal of frustration dealing with the way these programs are funded," she said, agreeing three - month contracts severely limit the groups' effectiveness.

Her motion, which will be voted on next week, calls for accepting the current funding and revenue limits; developing priorities for the social service groups, and having the county's bureaucracy "look for places to trim."

"I am not voting for any property tax increase this year," she said. "Without priorities (for the programs) I'm not willing to make increases or cuts. Without priorities, there's no basis for rational decision."

Her plan calls for $7.35 million to the community groups in 1977, $7.64 million in 1978, $7.64 million in 1979 and $3.48 million for the first nine months of 1980.

Another $6.1 million in tax relief is offered each year.

Her compromise, however, came only after more than an hour of emotional presentations by supporters of the social programs, and an often bitter debate between supervisors George and Joseph Bort.

George argued for even more program funding and full contracts through 1980.

But, warned county administrator Loren Enoch, that would mean "an immediate property tax rate increase of 15 to 17 cents."

George claimed building expenditures — particularly jail construction — also comes from property taxes, but does not serve the community as well as the community based groups.

"There's a 'social value' in keeping property taxes at a level where people can afford to live in their own homes," shot back Bort, "especially those on fixed incomes. It's preposterous that you're talking about a 15 to 17 cent hike in the tax rate."

Short life for his short stop

PLEASANTON — Doug Huntze has withdrawn his plans to build a short stop convenience market with gas pumps on Santa Rita Road near West Las Positas Boulevard.

Instead he will propose 8,000 square feet of retail commercial space.

City Manager Bill Edgar notified the city council of the decision Monday night and said the staff wants Huntze to file a new environmental plan for the change.

The proposed short stop market generated concerns in the nearby Fairlands tract. Residents were worried that children would be attracted to the store, but there was not adequate pedestrian safety for them. There also were concerns about the hours and traffic the store would keep and the traffic it might generate.

Huntze's request prompted the council to change the zoning ordinance so that now all food markets must receive a conditional use permit if they are to be approved.

Sex and us

In Cincinnati the publisher of a low-grade "sex magazine" is sentenced to jail, and the cry goes out ... "Violation of his right of free speech!"

In San Francisco the purveyors of "adult entertainment" assert their "right" to perform, to attract, and to thereby convert an entire section of the community to their exclusive use, and to the exclusion of other, more traditional forms of entertainment.

But in the nation's capital, a crusading psychologist spreads shocking evidence of "small children used as models in filthy magazines and films distributed nationwide," and no one, not even the major profiteers of pornography, come forward to defend "those who would use babies to sell sex films."

The wonder of it all is not that Hustler Magazine, Playboy or the rest do what they do; nor is it surprising that some would find such publications "just another expression of free speech." The real wonder is in that shock wave of "civil liberties" triggered in defense of the pornographer, but never in support of those who reject such excesses.

Is it really so startling that there are Americans who would keep this nation from becoming immersed in sex, brutality and assorted violations of the body? (And what about those trouble -makers who would deny us the right to all that lovely crime on the tube?)

We are a nation of laws, of standards that evolve from our common progression. Each and everyone of us is taxed for wars, for prisons, for freeways; yet many of us might object to one or all of these investments. We participate because "the majority rules."

Why then cannot the majority prevail in matters of morality? or even advance such a discussion without being condemned for "restraint of free speech?" Is the establishment of a national speed limit more essential to "the nation's good" than a limit on dissemination of filth? the promotion of physical abuse? the prostitution of young girls? the enslavement of small children?

How far must we go in protecting "private rights" before a civilized society might intervene on behalf of the common good? We found one such limit in the off-hour behavior of our congressional representatives; we now find another in the use of babes to advance "sexual freedom."

America is at long last beginning to back up from that tolerance which has sheltered the worst of humanity behind freedoms provided by the best of humanity.

...and your faith

There are those among us who see "faith in action" as little more than a projection of what they believe in and what they try to put into practice, every day of their lives. The old ideas of "formal worship every Sunday" are secondary to a daily parade of programs that invite members of the congregation to "get involved."

One evidence of that involvement is the Interfaith Luncheon which will draw people of many religious persuasions to St. Augustine's Church in Pleasanton on Monday. This event has grown over the years into one of the more fascinating and enlightening assemblies on the Valley's roster.

Something less than a religious rite, it is still something far more than a social. And yet, the sociability of people each dedicated to working with others, for others is the bottom line of this particular gathering. It becomes a reflection of the total community input for a hundred different ventures, crossing all religious, ethnic and economic lines.

The Christians found, in their first terrible moment of trial, that just understanding each other was a source of strength in trying to cope with the enemy that was ignorance. Christians and Jews and others of whatever belief are being tested again ... in challenges that range from using children in sex exploitation to the offerings of national television.

We cannot pretend to understand what motivates those people; we can be expected to set forth our own principles, establish our own example. The Interfaith Luncheon on Monday is one such expression.

State tax dodge

Now that the property tax season is with us again a couple of points made by the Alameda County Taxpayers Association seem worth repeating here:

First, there is the disquieting, but not surprising news that the average property tax payment in California last year was 89 percent higher than the average paid ten years earlier. But for once, California is not the nation's leader. Massachusetts has that honor with a property tax bill that is up 147 in that ten-year span; Alaska leads the 50 states with a whopping 298 percent jump in that ten year span.

The other ACTA item of interest is the revelation that — in Alameda County alone — $33.4 million in property tax revenues generated by the county and local governments this year are needed just to finance state-mandated programs.

From adult welfare programs to criminal justice revisions to small claims legislation ... the state establishes costly answers that local government must undertake, and must then finance through their share of the property tax.

Which suggests that if you think your property tax is unfair or intolerable, don't complain to city hall ... but rather tell your representative in Sacramento.

The diet

In each hand I gripped a hunk of birthday cake I could hardly balance.

My right hand was dug into an enormous wedge of fragrant devil's food cake with two-inch-thick fudge frosting.

In my left hand, I grasped one-quarter of a lemon cake piled high with velvety buttercream icing. Holding the lemon cake at the ready, I plunged my face deeply into the chocolate.

Thick, sweet globs crammed my mouth, covered my cheeks and nose and chin. Now for an assault on the other piece!

And then the alarm rang. Are dreams fattening? I didn't think so, until Vivian at the Diet Center weighed me and discovered I hadn't lost anything in the last 24 hours. I felt too guilty to tell her about that dream.

The second week of my diet was beginning! I'd signed up for two weeks of "Slim and Trim" dieting at the friendly little office at 1822 Catalina Court where we overweight people go, hoping for miracles.

The biggest miracle for me was being able to stick to a diet for a whole week! That was five days better than my old record for the past 31 years. Their plan, I found out, was a natural diuretic (apple cider vinegar) plus vitamins and a diet supplement, plus a low-fat, low-carbohydrate 750-calorie diet — plus a daily dose of genuine interest and encouragement.

Five pounds lighter than I was a week ago I plunged into the second week of dieting and record-keeping...

FRIDAY: I've finally stopped craving eggs and toast for breakfast and started heading eagerly for the blender as soon as I stagger out of bed in the morning.

The secret weapon is strawberry slush, my "protein drink" for the Seven frozen strawberries, a can of diet strawberry drink, some ice cubes and some vanilla-flavored vegetable protein powder. Whip it up and gnom it down.

SATURDAY: Another party tonight! To fortify myself, I add a handful of shrimp to my three scrambled eggs for dinner. I plan to have an extra protein drink, but feel so stuffed from this omelet binge that I skip it.

Carrying a six-pack of sugarless tonic water, I fake it through the big party without anyone noticing. Of course I have to act a little silly toward midnight, like everyone else. But for me, that's easy.

SUNDAY: Where's all this energy coming from? I do my wash in the morning, trip into San Francisco in the afternoon and in the evening clean house! And, hey, my friends are beginning to NOTICE my emerging SHAPE!

MONDAY: Dieting at the office is an art in itself. An overweight person walking in with a grocery bag full of bulky items is bound to attract attention.

TUESDAY: Mama told me there were "plateaus" like this, but I never stayed on a diet long enough to hit one

The week in retrospect

The two Browns

This has been a major news week for two prime political movers and shakers in state government — Edmund G. Brown, Jr. and Assemblyman Willie Brown of San Francisco.

While the bossman has been appointing women "and other minorities" to almost every available judgeship and supreme court vacancy from El Centro to Eureka, his charismatic cohort has composed a letter to Bay Area Rapid Transit board leader Barc Simpson while pushing his "victory gardens" marijuana bill.

We will not dwell on the Junior Brown's appointments, as a column on this page Friday by Earl Waters (concerning the appointment of Rose Elizabeth Bird as the first woman Chief Justice of California) pretty well outlined the situation. Suffice to say, the respected veteran state lawmaker John Holmdahl believes Brown should at least present his appointments to the state Senate for confirmation.

But, as we've implied on these pages before, Brown-as-governor makes a great guru for the downtrodden masses. I see Brown as being highly effective investigating apartment house conditions in major cities — but sitting in The Seat in Sacramento? No.

Assemblyman Brown, he of the marijuana bill and the ill-fated power struggle with Leo McCarthy, is a much less complex man.

It's easy to figure where Willie's "coming from." As an example, take the following excerpts from his letter of Feb. 7 to BART's Simpson:

After thanking Simpson for the opportunity to recommend someone as a replacement to the BART board for Elmer B. Cooper, Brown writes, "As you know, Mr. Cooper is black. As you also know, there is just one other board member who is black. Of the more than 200 Bay Area elected officials less than five per cent are black. I hope you will keep this in mind when considering a replacement for the vacancy created by the resignation of a black elected official."

"I want to stress how important it is to have as many minority elected officials as possible and where the opportunity presents itself, we officials should take advantage of that opportunity ..."

"While those of us who are members of the same minority group as Mr. Cooper may differ on how the replacement should be made, we do not differ on whether the replacement should be a black and I, along with my other elected black colleagues, strongly urge you to look with favor upon our recommendation."

But the caper is the next paragraph in the Brown letter.

"Mr. Simpson, I am also told that you have received letters from many other politicians suggesting other candidates. I will caution you on those letters if that candidate is not of the same race as Mr. Cooper."

It might be noted that the BART district in question is District 8, including the Sunset, Parkside and Ingleside areas of San Francisco. This area is a grand total of 9 per cent black. It might also be noted that of all BART employees, 16.8 per cent are black. The latter is considerably above the black population percentage of the total area that BART serves.

If Assemblyman Brown - the racist wants to play the numbers game, he should make some attempt at looking at the area served.

Letters to the Times

Parent concerned

Editor, The Times:

As a parent and taxpayer in Pleasanton for the past 12 years I am appalled at the state of negotiations between the teachers and the Districts. The Superior Court decision clearly supports the legality of the high school teachers' position ... What concerns me is the court order requiring the District to pay $1000 in attorney's fees for the plaintiffs — the teachers. Obviously, the District is already paying its own attorney. Less obvious, perhaps, is the fact that we, the taxpayers, must bear the cost of both attorneys.

I expect my taxes, earmarked for education, to be used accordingly by the school districts. I resent the use of this money to support both sides of a legal argument that resulted from a clear violation of contract on the part of the District.

It is the stated intention of Dr. Newlin, Districts' Superintendent, to appeal the portion of the court decision related to teacher salaries withheld since July 1, 1976. How Much More Money, intended for education, will go to attorneys in this proposed action? How much more educator time will be taken away from our children? How much more interest will the Court direct us to pay on illegally withheld salaries?

I sincerely hope that the High School Board of Trustees will reconfirm our trust in them and make an intelligent choice concerning the senseless appeal of a court decision based on precedent from at least 2 previous cases. If the Board finds itself in such a position of intelligent enlightenment, it might also consider the overall state of negotiations with the teachers. Are the two sides really far enough apart to warrant further disruption of the educational process? I'm concened.

Prison, housing

Prisons and public housing are two unpopular topics right now in Pleasanton. There are some striking similarities between the two.

The chief similarity is how both are perceived in the eyes of the white middle class which comprises 98 per cent of the city's population. Poor people live in public housing and populate the prisons. I think a majority of residents feel that poor people are not as good as middle class persons. The attitude seems to be, "If they are any good, they would not be poor." It's the old Protestant Ethic — God smiles on the just people and visits the plague of poverty on the unjust. And God helps them who help themselves, not those lazy slackers on welfare. This is such a wrong-headed and self-defeating ethic, I won't even bother to discuss its philosophy here. There are other battlegrounds for eradicating the Protestant Ethic.

The practical point here is that people in a homogenized, white middle class ghetto, which is what Pleasanton is, are afraid of poor people. It's the poor people whose kids are going to beat up your kids and vandalize your home. That, I suspect, is why the city council audience let out such an audible groan when developer Chris Berattis hinted the housing authority might put public housing on the site of his Oak Tree Center.

And that same impulse seemed to be present in the city council itself last week when it took a stand opposing location of a women's state prison at Camp Parks. Prisons give the city a bad image, said the council.

Well, maybe public housing gives it a bad image, too. Back in 1972, the community's leaders said, "Let's have scattered site public housing in Pleasanton. That way we won't have a big, concentrated ghetto of poor people which could cause problems and segregate them from the rest of the community." This will help the poor and the community. "Noble thought. A few weeks ago, this philosophy got its first practical test when Berattis said the housing authority inquired about condemning his property at the corner of Valley Avenue and Hopyard Road.

It's clear to this writer that Komandorski Village will be replaced on its site. It will keep the poor out "where they belong," out next to Prison Acres, away from "running amok in the middle class neighborhoods."

There is even some talk by conservatives of convincing the housing authority to refurbish Komandorski Village instead of building new housing. Incredibly, three of the four Komandorski Village residents who interviewed for a housing authority seat agreed with that idea. Maybe they have bought the Protestant Ethic so much they don't think they are worthy of new housing. What hath John Calvin wrought?

round the town

Rik Massengale wins a potful of dough in a professional golf tournament, and promptly declares ... "I couldn't have done it without God."

Anita Bryant takes time off from selling Florida orange juice on the national tube to make a little speech: "I'm going to campaign against homosexual permissiveness in my state even if it costs me my job!" — The hottest team in all of basketball is made up of a bunch of giants who left college and promptly signed juicy contracts with ... THE LORD! "Winning converts to Christ is more important than any million dollar bonus I might have gotten for signing with the National Basketball Association," one seven-foot-six-inch forward says, humbly.

Yes indeed, the times are really out of joint. Americans are turning down silver in order to be with the savior. They cast aside a five-year, no-cut contract with the simple disclaimer ... "I'd rather spend a lifetime with the Lord."

The spread of this insidious disease is not lost on those who are pledged to bring us the best in athletic endeavor, to maintain the quality of the breed, and to fill the local stadium ... along with a few bank accounts.

"I can beat Bowie Kuhn, I can handle Reggie Jackson, I can even scare hell out of a judge or two," one Charles O. Finley was heard to say, "but how in the name of profit can I beat all of heaven?"

It is not that Mr. Finley isn't willing to try. It's just that no one in professional sports ever gave it much thought. Until now.

My "Handbook For Competing With God" is a publication that promises to be a best seller among sports moguls, TV producers and other assorted makers of millionaires. (I understand that Pete Rozelle has already made it just reading for all National Football League team owners. "Handbook" has replaced "Hustler" as the number one topic in the executive suite.)

In preparing this Handbook, I began with the following assumptions: 1. God is good; 2. God is a terrific salesman; and 3. God has a direct line to the White House.

Chapter one, verse three of "Handbook" sets the tone of the entire publication: "Let us assume that people signing long-term contracts with God are not fully informed on the advantages of worldly profit."

"Can God's pension plan match that of the NFL? Does the heavenly hospital program meet that offered by the NBA? Does any superstar assume for a moment there is no-fault insurance in the next world?"

It is with such provocative questions as these that I put the molder of millionaire performers at ease, so to speak. I want to instill confidence in the American system. The important thing is to check any widespread abandonment of that dream which has always held "There is no greater trip than that which man makes to the bank."

It is the credo upon which this nation built major league baseball, basketball, football, hockey and tennis; it is the benchmark of golf, pro and amateur; it is the lifeblood of the Olympics, the bible of dedicated high school coaches everywhere.

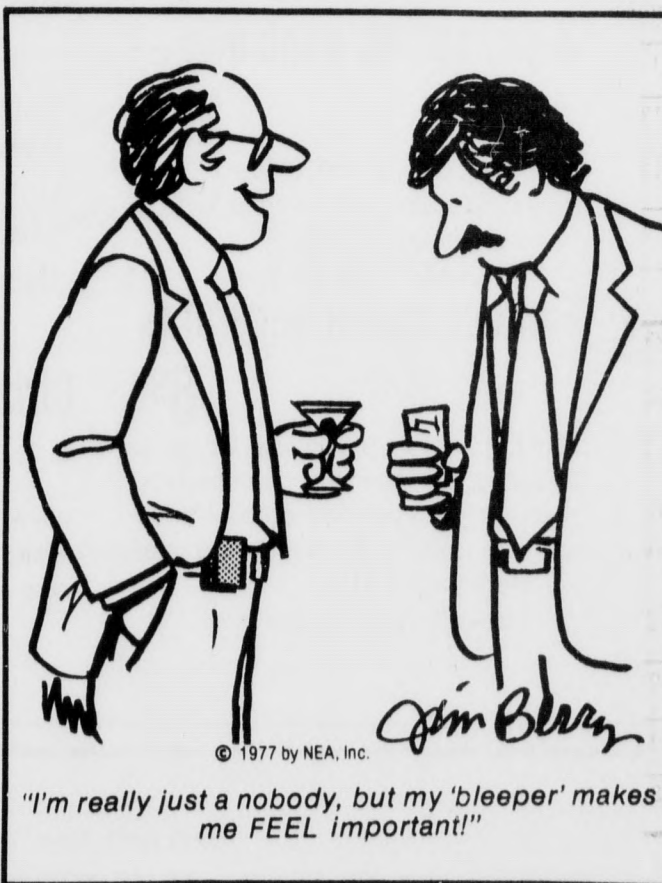

The mere thought of healthy, greedy American youth leaving all this just to team up with the Lord is enough to destroy our free enterprise system! Allow top college athletes to form a league with slogans like "Athletes In Action For Christ" and you threaten the very foundation of The Draft! Encourage Anita Bryant to "stand up for my Christian principles even if it costs me my TV contract" and we might never again win a Barbara Walters to the network news, or get O.J. Simpson to leap over airport terminals in the name of all that is Hertz!

That is what I tell the pro sport owners and the network people, in my Handbook. It's not that I want to undermine the work of the Lord. But what with Congress removing most of those tax shelters and Carter threatening to cut the oil depletion allowance I thought it was only fair to give millionaires a fifty-fifty chance at beating God out of a buck.

It's the American way.

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have decided to get into nutrition and improve my family's eating habits. As a guide I thought I would use Adelle Davis' books, "Let's Eat Right to Keep Fit" and "Let's Get Well." Are such books good guides for nutrition? I know there are lots of things published that are not always correct and I don't want to take any chances with our nutrition. Please tell me honestly what you think of these.

DEAR READER — Honestly I can't recommend them. I know this will disturb many of her loyal fans, but regardless of how well meaning she may have been her books are full of inaccuracies. I have always thought part of the problem was that she came on the scene about the time vitamins were first discovered so she was very impressed with vitamins. Also she really spoke for a different period when lack of food was the biggest problem, exercise was a bigger part of daily life — usually in the form of hard physical labor, and our medical problems were entirely different than they are today.

Qualified nutritionists do not recommend her books. In a new book, "The Health Robbers" (George F. Stickley Company Publisher, Dept. N, 210 W. Washington Sq. Philadelphia PA 19106, price $10.50) edited by Dr. Stephen

Barrett, of the Lehigh Valley Committee Against Health Fraud and Gilda Knight of the American Institute of Nutrition there are comments on Adelle Davis and other "confused crusaders."

Gilda Knight writes that, "Her books, which are full of inaccuracies, are not on the approved list of any bona fide nutrition society," she quotes Dr. George Mann of Vanderbilt University as saying one of her books contains an average of one error on every page and some of the mistakes are dangerous.

She goes on to tell of a little 4-year-old girl whose mother was a health food faddist. She was hospitalized for diarrhea, vomiting, fever and loss of hair. She had enlargement of the spleen and liver. Her hair was falling out. She had signs of brain tumor. Her mother, who followed Adelle Davis' advice, had been giving her excessive amounts of vitamin A and D. The child recovered after this practice was stopped.

I would like to recommend "The Health Robbers" to all my readers. You can read about Carlton Fredericks, the vigorous proponent of low blood sugar (hypoglycemia). The book states, "Carlton Fredericks has had virtually no nutritional or health science training. He graduated from the University of Alabama in 1931 with a major in English and a minor in political science." You can also read about Linus Pauling and his questionable promotion of vitamin C against the common cold.

The book also includes important information for the public about quackery in arthritis treatments, frauds in the weight losing diet material promoted to the public and much more.

The reason we have so much medical misinformation printed is that we have freedom of the press. Any completely unqualified person may publish his or her remedy for our aches or pains or advertise them as TV commercials. Exaggerations are common. This is one of the prices we have to pay for freedom of the press.

FRANK AND ERNEST

THE BORN LOSER

Johnny Wonder's QUESTION CORNER

Q. "WHAT IS RINGWORM?"

A. RINGWORM IS A COMMON SKIN DISEASE APPEARING IN CIRCULAR PATCHES. IT IS CAUSED BY INFECTION BY TINY PLANTS KNOWN AS FUNGI.

ROCHELLE FONTES BOULDER CREEK, CA

DICK ROBERTS

Ringworm is the name of a very common skin disease. The medical name for it is "tinea."

Ringworm is not caused by a worm, but by infection by tiny plants known as fungi which feed on the protein-building material in the skin.

A common ringworm sore starts as a small red spot on the skin. This quickly grows larger, sometimes the size of a silver dollar. There may be some blisters and a slight itching or burning sensation.

The infection seems to heal in the center, and the ringworm sore appears as a red, scaly ring. There may be one or several patches of ringworm.

Common ringworm of the skin is often seen on children. It is very contagious, and it can be spread by animals as well as by humans.

Ringworm can usually be easily cured by a doctor. He will help you to get rid of it as quickly as possible and see to it that it does not spread to other parts of the body.

For Sunday, Feb. 20, 1977

ARIES (March 21-April 19) For more enjoyment, arrange your plans today so that you'll share the company of persons who are as active as you are.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your aims have a greater chance of being realized today if your approach is subtle and indirect. Let others act on your hints.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Profitable information could be exchanged today with one who is imaginative and enterprising. Listen attentively.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Be the one who takes the initiative in joint ventures. An opportunity could slip by if you wait on your counterpart.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You have a clever grasp of situations today. You are able to inspire others to act on your behalf, if you choose to do so.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Very likely you'll be bored unless you direct your energies toward something productive. It should be along self-improvement lines.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Today you shouldn't be a loner, but you won't fit comfortably with too large a group. Spend time with a select few.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Minor tasks clamor for attention today. Get right to them and they won't bite too heavily tomorrow into things you'd prefer doing.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)

Feb. 20, 1977

Interestingly, it will be a series of small things this coming year that will be your greatest source for gain. They will add up so as to please you.

South covered West's queen of spades lead with dummy's king. He always covered an honor with an honor and anyway what did he have to lose?

He found out quickly. East returned a spade to his partner and West shifted to a club. South decided to try a double finesse with dummy's 10. East took the jack and shifted to a trump. Some time later on, South lost a club finesse to East's king and the contract had aborted.

The spare parts of history

LIVERMORE—Two airplane building hobbyists from Florida stopped by the Lake residence in Livermore last week to pick up parts to rebuild a Stearman, (PT-17), built by Boeing Aircraft Corporation, a training airplane used by the Army, Navy and Air Force prior to World War II.

Gerald L. Giroux and his uncle, Don Giroux now have their trailer full of enough parts to build two of the open cockpit bi-planes, and enough engine parts for four engines. Most of the parts were obtained in Chicago.

Following the ads in Trade-a-plane, a magazine for aircraft hobbyists, the two men have gleaned parts from all over California.

Lake, of Livermore, an aircraft builder in his spare time, works for United Airlines in the jet engine overhaul shop. He contributed some parts for the PT-17's. According to Lake, during World War II, there were 400 Stearmans stationed at Wagoner Field, situated where the Radiation Laboratory is now.

These planes are still used, modified, for crop dusting. The parts are more likely to be found in the warmer climates, like Florida, California, and South America, due to the fact that they are an open cockpit plane. It is more fun to fly an open cockpit plane, according to Don Giroux, if you don't have to worry about the weather. He believes that these planes, like the convertible automobile, will be popular collector's items, simply because they are open cockpit planes.

Gerald Giroux, who flew AT-10s for the Army in Korea, is the owner of Space Age Metals of Giroux Aviation, Plantation, Florida. Rebuilding of the Stearmans is a hobby, however, fast becoming a business.

The PT-17s will be built in Fort Lauderdale, Florida. There is paperwork on each part, certification on each step of construction. Each mechanic has a certificate for a certain function, and as each step is completed, the mechanic puts his stamp on that part. The responsibility for its proper function then comes back to him if anything should go wrong.

The whole trailer load of parts is surprisingly light, says Don Giroux, probably weighing no more than 3500 lbs. including the trailer. The wing parts are of wood framed with nylon fabric, with goop on top of that to seal them.

The Giroux have enough center sections and fuel parts. They now need lower hardware. Those are the parts that corrode worse than anything else, according to Gerald Giroux.

Now, is this any way to buy an airplane? According to the Giroux it is.

Replace Komandorski

Architect selected

PLEASANTON—The housing authority hired Hirshen, Gammill, Trumbo and Cook as the general architect to work on construction of 150 units to replace Komandorski Village Wednesday night.

The firm designed the 150 units at Kottinger Place, the other project run by the housing authority, and won a national architecture award for it.

The panel also voted to retain Hal Dunleavy as a housing consultant, Jack Baskin as building developer, and the firm of Royston, Hanamoto, Beck and Abey for landscape design.

The commission appears to favor location of all 150 replacement units on the 33 acre Komandorski Village site. It is hopeful that negotiations with Valley Community Services District will yield the necessary permanent sewer connections for the project. VCSD considers the existing 174 units on "temporary" connections because the housing once was considered temporary wartime housing.

All the housing authority wants is 150 permanent connections and is willing to give up the extra 24 connections to VCSD as a sort of bargaining chip. VCSD can sell the 24 connections.

On another item, Executive Director Michael Parsons has applied to the federal government for an $80,000 grant to bring Kottinger Place's electrical lines up to a standard which PG&E will accept. The housing authority wants PG&E to own the lines, maintain them and install individual meters for each housing unit, just like the typical private sector apartment.

An invitation to visit

LIVERMORE—The sister city organization with ties to Yotsukaido, Japan, this week sent an official invitation for the city council to select one of its members to represent Livermore during a trip to Japan this summer.

Sam Cohen, president of the organization, told council five Livermore citizens have enrolled for the visit and he expects more.

"We have arranged for those planning to visit Yotsukaido to use one of two charter flights to Japan," he said, noting round trip on Japan Air Lines 747 jets is $460. Added to the cost is a $3 or $15 membership fee in the organizations sponsoring the flights.

Financing for the council representative would come from either the council or the individual selected, Cohen said.

"We can assure the individual selected that a fine reception will be provided by the people of Yotsukaido," he added, "and that we shall be able to arrange for home stays in other parts of Japan with fine host families so that total expenses for the trip can be kept to a minimum."

He noted that since charter flights are on a first-come, first-served basis, a decision must be made by March 1 to assure seating.

This will be the first exchange trip since Yotsukaido was approved as Livermore's second sister city Dec. 6.

Jane Motluck

Soprano featured

Lyric soprano Jane Motluck of Dublin will be a featured entertainer this afternoon at Proctor's on First Street, Livermore.

A newcomer to the Valley, Jane was recently featured in "The Sound of Music" in Chicago. She studied voice with Bruce Foote, chairman of the vocal music department at the University of Illinois, and has sung professionally in the Midwest.

She holds a bachelor's degree in microbiology from the University of Illinois and has studied nursing. She is a painter as well as a singer, and will do scenes from "Sound of Music" on Sunday.

Songs by Kathy Dahlbacka, piano show tunes played by Renee Smith and street musicians will complete the afternoon's entertainment, 2-4 p.m. The affair is a benefit for school board candidate Jan Brice and tickets are $2 per person at the door.

Energy panel keeping tabs on pipeline

LIVERMORE—Energy considerations of sewage outflow will come under close scrutiny of the city's energy conservation committee when it meets next Wednesday.

The 7:30 p.m. meeting at the Carnegie Building, will explore the energy aspects of a pipeline going over the Hayward Hills.

"Any kind of a system like this is going to take energy," said George Thomas, chairman of the energy sources subcommittee. "We have to balance that with the type of energy savings that could accrue from the system—a sort of energy balance."

"Energy is only one aspect of the whole pipeline questions," said Thomas, "but the energy committee will limit itself to discussion about energy considerations."

The committee is also expected to begin discussions about a proposed energy element for the Livermore General Plan.

BETTER THAN SOLAR HEATING!

THE AUTOMATIC SOLAR COVER

1. SOLAR HEAT: most effective solar heater available. Not only adds heat, but insulates and prevents evaporative and radiant heat losses at night.
2. SAFETY: most effective security device you can add to your pool. You can go away for a vacation and be secure.
3. WATER: Our newest shortage, again the Automatic Cover is the solution. Cover the pool and your evaporation is almost eliminated. After all, what could be better in a drought than 20,000 gallons of water in your yard?
4. CHEMICALS: prevents most losses and use of these expensive chemicals, thereby helping to maintain pH balance and reduce odorous effects on people and clothing.
5. MAINTENANCE: prevents dirt from entering the pool, eliminates evaporation of the chemicals effectively, reducing all of the related maintenance and keeping the pool in chemical balance.

A return for the better

On Sports

After taking a year's leave of absence the North Coast Section is returning to the Northern California Tournament of Champions Basketball Tournament this year.

The move will probably not only bolster the caliber of competition in the TOC but increase its drawing power as well.

Before the NCS playoffs were started two years ago league champions from several East Bay Area leagues (including the East Bay Athletic League) competed in the TOC. When the NCS playoffs began in 1975 the league winners still took part, and Amador Valley won the consolation title of the TOC after finishing fourth in the NCS competition.

Last season, however the TOC expanded to an All-Northern California tournament. As a result only the NCS 3-A champion would be allowed to go to the tournament. NCS representatives felt this was unfair since the San Francisco and Oakland sections, which each have only one league, sent their champion automatically to the classic.

As a result the NCS representatives voted against sending the NCS champ to the tournament and TOC attendance took a dive.

John Jones

In 1975 the TOC set an all-time attendance mark, due largely to the presence of Bill Cartwright and his Elk Grove teammates. Last year, however, with the NCS missing, three at-large berths were given out, two to the Central Coast Section and one to the Oakland Section.

The Central Coast Section was competing in the TOC for the first time and its participating schools were not familiar with the TOC and its prestige. As a result, attendance from the three CCS schools, champion Cupertino, St. Ignatius and Del Mar, was poor.

Some of the players from the CCS schools admitted they had little motivation for the TOC. One SI player said the only reason he could get motivated for the TOC was a chance to play Cupertino again, which had beaten the San Francisco Catholic school two years running in the CCS finals.

However, this year, with the 3-A NCS champion competing, there will only be two at-large berths open. NCS officials are hoping the 2-A champ will receive one of the berths.

Despite the fact the NCS is again competing in the TOC a lot of East Bay coaches prefer the "old days" when most of the area leagues sent their champion to the tournament.

"Let's face it, how much of a chance does the EBAL have of getting into the TOC now," said Livermore High School coach John Jones. "Our champion will have to compete in the NCS playoffs against teams from the CAL (Catholic Athletic League) and schools like Berkeley. I much prefer the old way when the league champion automatically competed in the TOC."

Jones' comments make a lot of sense but the ultimate goal of the TOC officials seems to be an eventual state championship tourney. A natural step in that direction would be an All-Northern California Tournament which the Tournament of Champions has become.

An All-Northern California tournament made up mostly of section champions enhances the caliber of the competition and would make for more exciting action.

And besides, if the NCS 2-A champion is accepted as an at-large team this season there would probably be more of a local flavor to the tournament.

That would probably raise the tournament's attendance and that is what's needed if the TOC is to prosper.

Gurney enters Midget championships

SAN JOSE — Chuck Gurney of Livermore will compete in the J.C. Agajanian 11th annual 100-lap USAC National Championship Midget auto races at the San Jose Speedway at 2:30 p.m. here today.

Gurney will be competing against several top drivers. They include four veterans of the Indianapolis 500, Gary Bettenhausen, Jan Opperman, Duane "Pauncho" Carter and Mel Kenyon.

Bettenhausen will be looking for his third win in the annual Spring USAC classic here.

Four EBAL matmen in state

HAYWARD — Although the East Bay Athletic League failed to send a single wrestler to the championship matches of last night's North Coast Section Wrestling Tournament at Chabot College, they didn't go home underhanded.

In fact, the league sent four wrestlers to the state meet in Sacramento in March by taking four third places as the two-day tournament wound through its final matches.

Naish Piazza of Livermore (141) Granada's Brett Nadeau (122) and a pair of San Ramon wrestlers, Steve Ramos (115) and Dave Arrighi (130), all won third-place medals to advance to the presastigious meet.

Piazza gained revenge on Del Norte's Frank Ormonde by taking an 8-7 win in one of the tightest matches of the evening.

The Livermore junior, who earlier had lost a 7-3 decision to Ormonde, switched his plans a little bit to come up with the win.

"He got four points the first time when I got stuck in a grapple," said Piazza. "So this time I went to escapes and takedowns. In the second round, I got behind. He's tough to wrestle."

Granada's Nadeau made a valiant comeback after losing his third match of the day on Friday, winning four straight matches to take the 122-pound third-place spot. Nadeau who's only loss was a 3-2 decision to Terra Linda's Mark Baker, whipped Eric Lessley of San Marin, 7-3.

Ramos, one of two Wolves who will go to the state meet, shutting out American's Steve Lutz, 3-0 in the 115-pound third place match. Ramos' only loss came when he was pinned by eventual finalist Warren Turnage of Clayton Valley.

In the 130-pound third-place match, Arrighi pinned Dixon Smith of Terra Linda to advance to the state meet. He pinned him in the second round.

Foothill's Kevin Rowan (98) lost a third-place semi-final match to Irvington's Russ Siciliano, 6-5. Steve Potts of Amador Valley (106) also failed in the consolation finals, getting pinned in overtime by Eureka's Steve Roderick.

Granada's Brent Dixon (158) entered last night's action in the championship bracket, but lost to DeAnza's Rick Garcia, 4-3 in the semi-finals then came back to take fifth place with a pin of Irvington's Phil Larson.

Amador Valley's Ernie Zumbach gain within a hair of making it to the state meet in the 194-pound class. Zumbach, wrestling in the consolation final, suffered a 7-4 loss at the hands of Albany's Kurt Heffernon.

Clayton Valley was well on their way to the overall team championship.

Sixteen EBAL wrestlers entered the final day of competition after Friday's preliminary round and only Dixon made it to the semi-finals of last night's competition. The top three finishers in each weight class will advance to the State Meet to be held March 4 and 5 at American River College in Sacramento.

Cal's Roth dies

BERKELEY — University of California quarterback Joe Roth died Saturday at his apartment here after a long fight against a rare form of cancer, a University of California Medical Center spokesman reported.

The spokesman said Roth, 21, died at 3:55 p.m. PST, surrounded by his family, friends and Cal Coach Mike White.

Suffering from a highly virulent form of cancer called malignant melanoma, Roth was hospitalized at the Cancer Research Institute at UC-San Francisco Feb. 10. At his own request, he was discharged Thursday and allowed to go home where he remained under the care of his physician, Dr. Michael A. Friedman.

A medical center spokesman said there will be a Mass of Resurrection and memorial service Tuesday at 7 p.m. at Newman Hall at UC. Roth leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Roth of Jerome, Idaho, and two brothers, Tom of Seattle and John of LaJolla, Calif. The family requested contributions be made to the Joe Roth Melanoma Research Fund, care of the UC San Francisco Cancer Research Institute.

After it was revealed early this year that Roth was fighting cancer a second time, he said: "It didn't come as any great shock. You always know once you have it that there's a chance it may crop up again."

Three years ago, when he was a freshman football player at Grossmont Junior College near San Diego, Roth noticed a bleeding scar on the left side of his face. He thought it was caused by his football helmet rubbing against the skin.

It was cancer, a biopsy revealed, and Roth underwent an operation which left a four-inch scar on his neck.

Late in the 1976 football season, a disappointing one for Roth after his sensational year as a junior, the quarterback noticed a lump on his chest. An examination revealed it was a recurrence of the cancer and he began receiving chemotherapy treatment.

"I'm just tremendously amazed at the amount of courage he's shown under the circumstances," said Coach White.

Mats edge Gaels

Hot and cold mixed in Dublin Friday evening, and the Gaels had a little too much of the hot.

Granada's Joey Wujek finally broke out of a mild slump and bagged 26 points to make up for a sluggish offensive night by the rest of his teammates as the Mats held on for a 42-39 win over the upset-minded Gaels.

For the Mats, it set up a final shot at the playoffs in their up and down season. For the Gaels, it meant clinching at least a tie for the East Bay Athletic League at 1-12. They can force company next Wednesday if they beat rival California, who stands at 2-11.

The 9-5 Matadors will pair up against San Ramon, also 9-5 and fresh off a stunning 66-48 win over Monte Vista, for the fourth and final playoff spot. The game will be played in Granada's gym.

Whoever wins the game may wind up the third place representative if gin-at-killing Foothill can muster up another upset against Monte Vista, whom they play in their finale.

But the Mats, who lost to San Ramon 69-65 last meeting, suffered from a poor offensive night in barely edging Dublin.

After Wujek, no other Mat got into double figures. Steve Robison and Dan Lambert each scored six points to lead the remainder of the Granada scorers.

Jim Boulware picked up the hot hand and rifled the nets for 18 points to lead all Dublin scoring, engineering a valiant Dublin comeback in the second half to almost throw a nail into the Mats' playoff hopes.

The winners held a 34-25 lead with 2:20 left in the third period before the Gaels cooked up an 8-0 spurt, keyed by Boulware and forwards Jeff Barnes and Lane Boespflug, to make it 34-33.

Neither team could muster a field goal in the first three minutes of the final stanza before Wujek and Robison each scored buckets to push the Mats up by five at 38-33. Following a Boespflug jumper, the Mats received a free throw from Jeff Evert and another Wujek basket to take a decisive 41-35 lead with less than two minutes to go.

The teams lackadaisically struggled through the first half, Granada taking a 24-15 lead after the Gaels had a tight 8-6 advantage at the first quarter break.

The Mats made their move when, trailing 9-6, they scored seven unanswered points to take a 13-9 lead they never gave up.

Chabot nips DeAnza

CUPERTINO — Chabot College's basketball team made the most of its free throws Friday night here in taking a thrilling 69-65 overtime victory over host DeAnza in a Golden Gate Conference.

The Gladiators made 29 of 39 charity attempts while the losers could make but seven of eight.

Forward Brian Keith was the backbone of the Chabot win. The 6-5 freshman made 10 of 11 charity shots in the second half, and also contributed some key defensive rebounds.

He scored 16 points, all coming in the second half.

Don Hansen and Keith Carlson each had 12 points for the winners. Paul Volasgis added 11 and Fraga 10. Pecota led the losers with 17 markers.

Hallock stars SR blasts Mustangs

DANVILLE — Brad Hallock canned 22 points as host San Ramon High School belted Monte Vista 66-48 in an East Bay Athletic League game at the Wolf gym here.

The victory for the Wolves improved their EBAL record to 8-5 and kept their hopes alive for the league playoffs. Monte Vista, which already clinched a spot in the playoffs, dropped to 9-4 and eliminated all hopes of a possible co-championship. Kevin Jones led the losers with 15 markers. Ken Krey added 12.

MONTE VISTA (48)

Foothill dumps Vikings

LOS ALTOS HILLS — Getting off to a late start didn't help Gerry Jones' Viking basketball team Friday night.

First, Diablo Valley's Dan Callan bent the rim of one of the baskets in warm-ups for the Vikes' game with Foothill College, delaying the start of the game some 45 minutes.

Then DVC could only try to play catch-up basketball in the second half of that contest, after making 29 per cent of its shots.

The end result was a 78-64 loss to Foothill, leaving the Vikings with exactly four games to win to finish at an even .500 mark. DVC, with the loss, is now 4-8.

The Vikes never led in this one, although they did manage to get within one at 16-15 with 8:43 left.

But then Foothill ran off a 20-10 scoring string, including eight straight

AV rolls over Falcons

Amador Valley High School again showed Friday night why it has dominated the East Bay Athletic League in basketball the past four years.

The Dons used a relentless press and a ball-control offense to roll over a stubborn Foothill team, 74-45 in the losers' gym.

the game from getting out of hand.

In the second half, Amador slowed the tempo down still more, holding the Falcons to six points and applying a stiff press which turned several Falcon turnovers into Amador baskets.

The Dons again got the first points of the quarter as Jorgensen tipped in a shot and Don Hall fired in a baseline jumper with 7:11 left in the period. Amador Valley stretched its lead to 40-21 with four minutes left before the Falcons battled back to narrow the margin to 42-25 at the quarter break.

The final period saw the contest turn into a shooting match with the outcome no longer in doubt.

Foothill center Steve Sperber, who has played outstanding ball the past few games, canned 12 of his game-high 20 points in the period. Eight of his final-quarter points came on free throws as he frequently went inside, drawing fouls from the Amador Valley front line.

Besides Howard's 17 points, Jorgensen and Hall each added 11 markers. Chris DePrater had nine for the winners.

Foothill is Foothill seemed tired after its great upset of Livermore Wednesday night and could never really get its offense in gear.

The Falcons are now 3-10 in EBAL play.

In junior varsity action Amador Valley took a 52-45 decision over the Falcons.

The win cinched a tie for the EBAL round-robin title for Amador. The Dons are now 11-2 while runner-up Livermore is 10-3 with one game remaining.

Livermore will have a chance to gain a tie for the EBAL round-robin title when it plays the Dons Wednesday.

However, if the Dons play against the Cowboys the way they did against the Falcons, Livermore will have a tough task.

Amador Valley raced to an 18-8 advantage at the first-quarter break as Rick Howard canned seven of his 17 points.

Howard and Sam Jorgensen each hit from the outside frequently in the opening period.

After the first quarter the Dons started to slow the tempo down, a tactic that has worked so well for them in the past.

Mike Hansen and Howard each hit buckets in the opening minute of the second quarter before Rick Rosenbach tipped in an errant shot for the first Falcon points of the period.

The Dons worked the ball around from then on, looking only for the percentage shot or a breakaway.

Amador Valley led 32-19 at halftime. Foothill was paced in the second period by Kevin Haraughty, who canned five points to keep

Sharp Pokes rout Cal

Those bony-fingered turnovers that mysteriously popped up at Foothill turned into flawless post patterns against California for Livermore High's basketball team.

Rebounding from a season-dampening loss to the Falcons on Tuesday, the 'Pokes came out with sharp, crisp passes and intense defense to shut off the Grizzlies, 80-60, Friday evening in Livermore.

For the first time in recent years, a Livermore High basketball team now has a chance to grab a share of the East Bay Athletic League title. They meet the league-leading Amador Valley Dons, 11-2, Wednesday in Pleasanton.

The Cowboys, one game back at 10-3, have a lot to conquer. First, the game is in Pleasanton. Secondly, they enter the contest with the possibility of an outright EBAL title vanishing because of the presently occupies at 1-12.

Tim Jenkins scored 23 points and Mark McCreary added 15 to pump the Liver-more cause. The Cowboys shot well from the outside and worked the ball inside against the Grizzlies repeatedly, as Brian Schweiger picked up nine points.

The game was never in doubt, as Livermore jumped out to a 45-18 half-time lead and a 62-32 ledger after three quarters.

The Grizzlies ran off a 21-5 spree in the final 3:20, quite a feat, to erase a 75-39 Cowboy lead and make the score look respectable. Chuck Cary and Larry Walters led the charge. Cary had 17 points on the night while Walters netted 13.

Cal missed 11 of their first 12 shots on the night, accounting for their big deficit. "We missed a lot of early shots," said Herrera, "and if you don't make some of them, it affects the way you play."

Jones, whose squad recovered from a horrendous shooting and turnover night against Foothill, said, "Foothill played a good game against us. Somebody said they shot 36% against us, but I thought they played and shot well. Against Cal, we just all played real well."

Foothill loss and last, the Dons will obviously be out for revenge, having lost to the 'Pokes 49-43 last time out.

But, Livermore coach John Jones plans no special hurrahs for the big game. "The way the schedule is set up, we'd have to beat them outright, anyway," he said. "We'll be working on the same things we have all year."

Grizzly coach Bill Herrera, who watched his squad fall prey to the Cowboys for the second time this year, wished he was playing Livermore anytime except after their Foothill beating. "That wasn't good for us," he said. "They came ready to play and we were flat."

Herrera, commenting on the upcoming Livermore-Amador contest, said "I think Livermore has been the most surprising team in the league. Jones has done a good job over there. They both have been playing well, but Amador has sagged a little bit. That's a tough place to play (AV's gym)."

The Grizzlies, now 2-11, battle Dublin in a rivalry of sorts in their season finale. The two schools, although in different counties, are in actuality in close proximity of one another. Both schools will be trying to vacate the EBAL basement which Dublin Abuse the only excitement left for Livermore fans in the late going was to see if Buddy Tye, the only 'Poke who had not scored, could bag a bucket. He didn't.

Glad wrestlers shine

SAN MATEO — The Chabot College Gladiators eliminated challengers in three weight divisions to maintain their league dominance at the Golden Gate Conference All-Star Wrestling Tournament here Friday.

Taking first in the finals for Chabot were top-seeded heavyweight Ron Freeman, third-seeded Kevin Dugan, 158 pounds, and top-seeded 150-pounder Bill Wylie.

Dugan, a Dublin High School graduate, sallied untroubled into the finals with a 8-1 first-round decision over West Valley's Steve Cunningham.

Granada High School grad, Ron Freeman, took a commanding 12-8 win in the semi-finals over George Boeger from Diablo Valley. He had an impressive four takedowns during the match.

"My coach has been working on takedowns with me. I'm sort of weak on my feet still," the 6' freshman said.

That extra concentration in practice obviously paid off for Freeman, who is 12-2 for the season.

Sophomore Bill Wylie, 20-6 this season for Chabot, knocked Foothill's Chip Hastings out of the number one spot in the final round by a 12-3 decision.

Freeman held on to the top ranking in the conference by with a 9-4 decision over Thor Jensen from College of San Mateo.

Team mate Dugan snatched the top-seed honors from former number one man Tony Brewer of Foothill College, in a 6-5 overtime decision. Officials awarded Dugan the winning point on the strength of more riding time than his less aggressive opponent.

Only four of Chabot's original ten qualifiers participated in the tournament. Seven of the ten were top-seeded.

"We tend to keep wrestlers out of these kinds of matches. They don't carry much weight as far as the league standings go. We want to avoid unnecessary injuries. The reason Ron and Kevin are wrestling tonight is because they need the mat time," Chabot coach Zack Pappachristos explained.

"The prestigious tournament to us is the state tournament. That's what we shoot for," he continued. Dugan couldn't agree more.

"This tournament is kind of a joke. It doesn't qualify us for anything. The league is not well represented either," he pointed out.

"It's a farce. Not many people showed up. There were a lot of forfeits," Freeman added.

Chabot won the GGC dual meet crown with a 7-0 record. The team was presented with an award after Friday's tournament.

The Glads lost in a bid for the state crown to Palomar, 29-9, last weekend in Hayward.

"Actually, we just had a bad day against Palomar. We're a better team than they are," Freeman stated emphatically.

Chabot will return to the mats Saturday in Suisun City for the Nor Cal Community College Championships.

A closer look at the valley's reigning grapplers will appear later this week in The Times.

DVC swimmers take first

Diablo Valley College captured first place in both the men's and women's divisions of the record-smashing Nor-Cal Community College Swimming and Diving Relays, held at the Pleasant Hill school Saturday.

In a Hollywood finish, the men went down to the final event, the 400-yard medley relay, to edge archrival West Valley College of Los Gatos by .33 of a second in the race and six points in the meet.

The women made the most out of the least — with only six swimmers (some schools had 20), the DVC women won all five events they swam, and easily took the championship.

It was the first time in the NorCal's 17-year history that the women competed, so each winning relay group set a meet record. The DVC men set four meet records, and won five events.

Las Vegas defeated the Livermore Starflippers 4-1. The Pleasanton Sharpshooters, led by Teresa Bonnell's two goals, shut out the Dublin Spirits. Terry Wigen scored the other goals and Denise McCutcheon had an assist.

In under-14 competition the Dublin Shamrocks fell to the Sunnyvale Shockers 2-1. Mary Burns scored the Dublin goal and Kelly Henderson had an assist.

Pleasanton's Hellicats edged the Dublin Shamrocks 1-0. Sheri Monday scored the only goal.

Alicia Mobley had nine saves for the losers and Jane Jennings eight for the victors.

The Fremont Yellowjackets and the Magic Mandrakes fought to a 1-1 tie. Coleen Henderson scored once for the Mandrakes.

Aileen Drake had seven saves for the Yellowjackets.

Dublin defeated United 1-0.

Under-12 competition saw the Livermore Candy Tufts fell to the Walnut Creek Spitfires 4-0.

The Livermore Morning Stars routed the Santa Clara Tigers 4-1. Laurie Boyle and Lynda Jansom each scored twice for the winners. Lori Johnson had four saves.

Dublin's Shillelagh dropped Fresno 5-1. Sue Caporicci had three goals and Lisa Sundberg two. Angela had five saves.

Pleasanton United defeated the Livermore Morning Stars 3-1. Michelle Nieto, Tracy Hirst, and Sue

Tri-Cities cage

Duo leads Columbus Realty

Kevin Sanck and Rich McCart each hit for 15 points to lead Columbus Realty past The Castle 47-43, in Tri-Cities basketball recently.

The winners, who trailed 20-19 at halftime, outscored The Castle 28-23 in the second period to ice the victory.

Both McCart and Sanck scored 11 of their points in the second half explosion.

Jeff Walker, Fred Beichmuth and Scott Smiley each scored 12 points for the losers.

In another close battle Straw Hat edged Jones Hocking Farms 39-35.

Bill Vane fired in 18 points for the winners and Bill Muldoon added 12 markers.

Jim Schmidt led Jones Hocking with 10 points.

Barry Martin added nine.

Intel outscored Galaxy 38-32 as Rich Stewart poured in 17 points for the victors.

Jeff Stephens led the losers with 11 points and Rick Neel Neely had seven.

A 20-point barrage in the second half gave Intel the victory.

All Seasons crushed the Flaming Turkeys 43-13 after taking a 25-6 halftime advantage.

Ted Aderson paced the winners with 16 points and Ben Murry and Bill Try each added six.

Roger Brothers led the losers with five markers. All Seasons scored 18 points to just seven for the losers in the second half.

Trinity Baptist blasted Hobits 57-30 with a balanced scoring attack.

Len Patterson led the winners with 13 markers and Jeff Jones added 10. Steve Christopher, Stan Thomas and Don Pengelli each added eight points.

Steve Sweiger led the losers with eight points and Gene Wehnt had seven.

Trinity broke the game open in the second half with a 33-point explosion while holding the losers to just 11.

Allied Brokers used the two-prong attack of Jack Stafford and Gary Purnell to topple Acme Trophies 41-24.

Stafford canned 13 points and Purnell added 12. Bob Molinari added six markers for the winners.

Kurt Rohren and Terry Witt each had eight points for Acme Trophies. The winners jumped off to a 20-12 halftime advantage and coasted from there.

Tac Ent used a big second half to down Nazarene 42-30.

The winners scored 24 points in the latter period to just 13 for the losers. Tac Ent led 18-17 at halftime.

Dave Wiltgen and Larry Kress each had 12 points for the victors. Gary Ball paced Nazarene with 14 markers.

Historic home could sell for $125,000 today

Vintage's historic quarters

LIVERMORE — Down in the center of town sits a house rich in history. For most people passing the corner of Fourth and J streets the building that now houses the office of Vintage Realty is just another charming old house.

The story that lies behind that charm is a very real part of the history of the Livermore Valley. An inquiry inside on the original owner more than satisfies the curiosity of anyone who might enjoy knowing about important former Livermore residents.

A visit with Graham Nissen, a prominent rancher in the area, takes you out First Street past the flag pole towards the open fields to the first ranch on the right.

Overlooking the tilled fields from a tree studded knoll, a gracious ranch style house stands at the end of the road. At dusk on a winter day, Graham Nissen sat in his study and related the following history.

His grandfather came to this country from Denmark to farm in the Camp Parks area. It was Graham's father, Charles, and his mother, Sue, who built the house at Fourth and J streets in 1915. After purchasing the lot for $700, they hired carpenters, Jim and Ray Bennett to build the home at a cost of $5000.

Broker Stan Burns of Vintage Realty estimates the total property to have a commercial value of about $125,000 today.

Charles Nissen's son, Jim, tinkered with gliders in the back yard which at that time had several out buildings. Later his fascination with airplanes led him to design and build the San Jose airport which he also managed in later years.

Now retired, Jim rebuilds antique airplanes in Livermore, where he lives.

Two other daughters still live in the area, Frances Prevost of Oakland, and Roberta Haugh of Rossmore.

REAL VIEW

Q. My husband and I have lived in Pleasanton for 8 years. We paid $30,000. for our home and now understand that it is worth $75,000. What is causing the prices to go up so high and how are people affording the payments with interest rates also so high? C.S. Pleasanton

A. The cause of rising prices is fundamental, Supply and Demand. In this case we have a lack of homes for sale, at the same time we have a very high demand to buy. More and more people are concluding that a home is a worthwhile purchase, so they are putting a home at the top of their most wanted list, even if that means cutting down on other things. There are about 16 million married couples 25 to 34 years old, about 37% own their homes, and about 4 million are actively seeking to buy homes. How can these buyers afford new homes? Several factors, aside from the traditional reasons of tax advantages, equity buildup, and protection against inflation. Personal incomes are higher even after inflation is taken into account, and more important, buyers are expecting their incomes to go even higher making these high payments easier to meet. And, more wives are working these days and combining incomes with the husband, as to high interest rates of 8%, they look pretty good to me compared to Canada at 13% and Western Europe at 15%.

Q. What is meant by the term "tax shelter"? D.P. Dublin

A. That's a big subject, but what I think you are looking for specifically pertains to the areas of interest and property taxes. The IRS allows a tax payer to write off many items against income, and in the case of a home owner, they allow you to deduct the interest on the mortgage loan, and the amount we pay for the property taxes, from our gross taxable income. In short you are not paying taxes on money earned and money spent. A renter loses this "shelter" and thus pays more personal income tax to the government.

Q. My wife and I would like to buy a second home for investment as a rental. We have been advised to leverage as much as possible, is this really the best way? N.S. Pleasanton

A. Leverage means using as little of your own money as possible, or another way of saying it is, borrow as much money as you can on the mortgage. The answer to your question is simply do what you can afford, remembering that the higher the loan the higher the monthly payments, and if the rental market weakens, and rent prices can't keep pace with the inflation, you may find yourself dipping into savings monthly to make up the difference. If you can't afford this negative cash flow, yet still want to make investments then you should plan to use more of your savings for the down payment, getting a smaller loan with smaller payments, allowing you to be more competitive with your rental rates, reducing any negative cash flow, and keeping your rental rented. Definitely invest, but do it soundly, which isn't necessarily high leveraging. ## Heritage transfer

Pete Neilson, real estate veteran, has transferred to Heritage, Gallery of Homes office in Dublin.

Pete has lived in the Country Club area of San Ramon for 13 years with his wife Tiny, two sons, Ron and Dennis, and a daughter, Kathy.

Pete previously spent 20 years with the IBM Computer Division and has been in real estate since 1958.

Pete is also active in the Shrine Patrol Drill Team.

Pete will be contacting his old friends and clients personally, but if anyone needs his services before that, call him.

New standards to help all

David H. Fox, newly confirmed Director of Real Estate, today announced five major goals which include simplifying home - purchase documents "so every one can understand them," pushing for a code of ethics for all real estate licensees, stepping up investigations and prosecutions of real estate law violations, and speeding up subdivision processing to help the profession and expedite construction industry jobs.

Fox announced that many of the 43.5 new positions proposed in the 1977-78 Governor's budget will be used to substantially increase the Department's enforcement efforts.

Fox, whose appointment by Governor Edmund G. Brown Jr. was unanimously approved the State Senate, said he "is reorienting the department to take a more active role in helping everyone involved in buying or selling property — the home buyer, the seller and the real estate profession."

He said the department will work in cooperation with real estate groups major consumer groups and concerned legislators in implementing the goals.

The newly created Consumer Education Unit and Policy and Planning Division, will play a major role in developing and implementing new departmental programs.

HELPING THE HOME BUYER — Fox said he has initiated a study to simplify all documents used in conjunction with the over one million real estate transactions in California annually "so that buyers and sellers will know just what is happening."

Fox said he also wants to make the Public Report more meaningful to home buyers. Before he signs the papers, a home buyer, by law, must be furnished a Public Report issued by the Department on the property, containing basic information such as applicable tax rates, nearness to schools, geologic hazards, potential contributors to air, noise and water pollution, etc.

"I want to revise the Report so that the reader will be well aware of the information presented. Currently, for example, a family could buy a house on an earthquake fault and not realize that it was mentioned in the Public Report. We plan to change that," explained Fox.

He said he also wants to give the prospective buyer adequate time to review the Report. Now, the buyer is often given the Report just before signing the final purchase documents. "Who is going to read it at that late date?" Fox asked.

Fox said his department is also planning to sponsor truth-in-housing legislation requiring sellers and or their agents to disclose to potential buyers in writing significant material facts about the property for sale.

This could include such major defects as leaky roofs, bad plumbing and uncorrected health code violations, as well as any warranties or representations as to capital improvements, zoning of the property, and whether the property includes any energy or water conservation measures.

SUBDIVISION APPROVAL — Fox said the Department of Real Estate is committed to reducing the time lag between the initial planning and ultimate approval for sale of new subdivisions.

"We hope to bring about expedited concurrent, rather than consecutive, permit approvals at all jurisdictional levels," he said. "Because of inflation, under the present system each month's delay increases the average price of a new home by more than $500," he added. "Speeding up of this permit process will also make construction jobs available sooner."

CODE OF ETHICS — Fox said he hopes to establish a uniform enforceable code of ethics applicable to all of California's more than 255,000 real estate licensees. "Such a universally applicable code is one of the cornerstones of a well-respected profession," noted Fox. While private real estate associations have their own codes of ethics, approximately 40 per cent of the licensees do not belong to such organizations. "I would like to see a mutually agreeable code of ethics which applies to every licensee," said Fox.

INCREASED ENFORCEMENT — Fox said that while many licensees are doing a good job, he intends to step up enforcement of the Real Estate Laws emphasizing the investigation and prosecution of major land fraud and misrepresentation cases, illegal lot - splitting and broker account violations "to weed out those who give the entire profession a bad name."

Twenty - six new positions will be used to increase consumer protection activities. Increased costs of the enforcement won't be passed on to the public, he said.

CONSUMER EDUCATION PAMPHLETS — Fox said he plans to increase consumer education through wider distribution of consumer oriented instructive materials. He hopes to make such information available to the public from real estate offices

Heritage, Gallery of Homes, takes great pride in Susanna Schlendorf's success as "Sales Counselor of the Year" for 1976. Her diligence and concern for her clients have earned her a most rewarding career in Real Estate.

Susanna is a new member of the "Million Dollar Club." This signifies that she has attained a Real Estate volume of sales and listings of over a million dollars for 1976. She has been active in the field for two years and has recently been appointed office manager for the Dublin, Heritage, Gallery of Homes office.

Susanna lives in the San Ramon Valley with her husband Jack and two children, Caroline, 9 and John, 8. She is active in numerous community organizations and enjoys gardening and creating new menus for her family and friends.

Susanna attributes her success to being sincerely concerned about doing the very best job for her client; having an honest approach in handling her transactions, and remembering and caring about the people she's done business with long after the escrows have closed.

If you are interested in purchasing or marketing a home, give Susanna a call. Her business world is centered around serving YOU in the home market.

CONGRATULATIONS SUSANNA!

Rookie

The "Rookie of the Year" award for 1976 has been presented to Roy Richardson of Valley Realty's Dublin sales office, Alameda County. This award is based on the outstanding representation of a sales associate who has less than one and a half year's service, but more than six months with the company; and who has shown adaptability, enthusiasm and high earning capabilities. John Ferreri, Senior Vice President (left) and Frank Straface, President of Valley Realty (right) presented this award to Roy at their annual breakfast meeting held at Howard Johnson's in Dublin. Congratulations Roy Richardson.

Village Realty in Livermore

A new business has been added along Fourth Street in Livermore in a shingled house that has been tastefully renovated to house the offices of Village Realty. Village Realty is not new to the Valley having been established in Dublin for the past one and a half years. Edna Olmstead and Don Dahlheim, brokers for the firm, are looking forward to meeting the real estate needs and serving the people in the Livermore area.

Village Realty has 17 active agents at present with a projected growth in numbers when the Village Realty Offices in Danville and Pleasanton become a reality in the near future.

Broker Dahlheim reports that the company has chosen Livermore as the second site for their office because of the tremendous growth potential of the area and because of the broad range of homes available: newer homes, older homes, reasonably priced homes for first home buyers to showplaces and lavish homes for the gentleman farmer...

The entire staff of Village Realty invites you to drop by their offices at 1813 "4th" Street in Livermore, and tour their new offices with all the warmth and charm and stained glass windows, as shown in the photo.

Dallas woman, $102,000 gone in mystery

Editor's Note—Kay Munch had it all: the right clothes, the right friends, the right address. She hosted the right number of black tie parties in her Highland Park home during the opera season. For at least a year, the money flowed like good wine. And then on Jan. 27, 34-year-old Miss Munch was indicted by a grand jury. Authorities say she embezzled at least $100,000 from her employer. But Kay didn't wait around for the law. She vanished, leaving her expensive friends wondering who she really was—or is.

By DON HARRISON
Associated Press Writer

DALLAS (AP) — The house in Dallas' most exclusive suburb is dark now. Inside, time has stopped — nine days before Christmas.

Presents, wrapped and unwrapped, lie scattered about the expensively-appointed living room. A $1,200 Persian rug is an island of blue on a large expanse of burnished hardwood.

In the kitchen, a box of cereal sets on the counter. Glasses stand beside the sink. The cabinets hide $100 place settings of china. Several copper ornaments adorn one wall. Their $200 price tags were never taken off.

The overall impression is that someone will be back momentarily. As one neighbor put it: "She left it just like I would leave mine if I were going to the grocery store." But the bedroom tells a different story.

Mail is beginning to stack up on the bed. Most of the envelopes appear to be bills, past due notices from nearly every fashionable store in Dallas.

Among the bills are invitations to boutique openings, tennis matches, opera functions — even a reply from the Australian counsel in San Francisco to a inquiry about visas.

A picture shows a semi-attractive blonde with a Streisand-like nose and a sprinkling of freckles across high Nordic cheekbones. It's the face of an independent woman, strong, but friendly. It is also the face of a fugitive.

On the morning of Dec. 16 — a Thursday — Kay Ann Munch had wheeled her new Buick through North Dallas traffic. She parked in front of Concrete Construction Supply Inc. in nearby Garland where she was a stockholder and company treasurer.

She had been with the firm since July 1974. "She came in and stayed about 20 minutes and said she had an errand to run," said CCS President Larry Smith. "I understand she went home, packed her bags and left."

Smith said her disappearance was prompted by an outside audit of CCS books that was to start the same day. The following Tuesday, 13 months of checks and financial statements were discovered missing.

Jon Sparling, head of the district attorney's special crimes section, said investigators have substantiated losses totaling $120,000 so far.

"It looks like she hit 'em for about $20,000 the last week," said Sparling.

A note found by bankers in the Lakewood Bank & Trust night depository Monday morning said the gold Buick was in the Delta Airlines parking lot at Dallas-Fort Worth Airport.

There were other notes, all written, strangely enough, on cheap tablet paper and signed simply "Kay." They went to friends and her brother in Murdock, Neb., explaining cryptically that she had deep personal and psychological problems and was leaving.

Ted and Suzanne Terry received their note in Saturday's mail. Kay was the legal guardian of their two small children if they both died.

"She's not their guardian anymore, and that's official," said Terry, a Braniff co-pilot.

Terry had known Kay about nine years. His wife, about four.

"She was supposed to spend Christmas with us," said Mrs. Terry. "She always did ... When she left, we were told she took her furs and all her jewelry, even her costume jewelry. And she remembered to take some pictures of the kids. I feel sure we'll hear from her. I looked for something around Christmas and then around Valentines Day but ..."

The Terrys were fooled. Both said they had wondered where Kay got her money, and assumed it came from an inheritance.

Rex and Sharon Jobe were fooled, too. "She told me the money was from farm income," said Mrs. Jobe, vice president and legal officer of the Republic of Texas Corp. "I come from the same background. So, it was natural for me to believe it."

Saturday, following their friend's disappearance, the Jobes met with mutual friends. Everyone in the group had long before exchanged house keys, so when one went on vacation, others could take in the mail and such.

They decided to go to Kay's to look for some clue as to what made their friend leave.

"There were several deposit slips for $5,000 apiece from CCS, which is what Kay always called the company," said Mrs. Jobe.

A second trip produced the missing socialite's personal check register dating back to June 1975.

"There were $108,000 worth of deposits from CCS in her account at First National," Mrs. Jobe said.

No one knows where Kay, a onetime farm girl from Pratt, Kans. has gone.

The two women knew each other about four years. "Kay had no money back then. She drove a VW. Like all of us, she wanted it ... Kay wanted to keep up. The clothes, the friends she selected ... We all live in nice houses, have nice jobs ... I think Kay had a hard time keeping up. I think she wanted us to like her for what she had, not who she was."

If the Jobes and the Terrys were fooled, they weren't alone.

Kay's neighbors say they were delighted when the bright, vivacious blonde moved in next door.

"This lovely, charming young woman moved into our neighborhood, our lives and our hearts," said a neighbor. "She, well, she had class. Sometimes, she would walk with us in the evenings. But around the end of October, that stopped. I sort of got the feeling, don't call me. I'll call you. I never talked to her after that."

Her friends, and her boss, believe the house and its furnishings led to the alleged embezzlement. That, and the need to keep pace in circles where furs, diamonds, and expensive cars are required passports.

Kay Munch's Buick has been repossessed and sold. Her home, in the $100,000 range, is in the hands of a court. CSC hopes to recoup some of its losses by selling the house and its furnishings.

"Wherever she is, she's riding first class," said Mrs. Jobe.

Water 'godsend' for EBMUD customers

OAKLAND — The U.S. Bureau of Reclamation speeded up activation of a water contract with East Bay Municipal Utility District Thursday — a move that will mean an additional 67 million gallons of water a day for some 1.1 million East Bay customers.

And while officials praised the allocation as a "godsend," they cautioned that it does not mean the end of the water shortage. The action was seen as a way of postponing the need for a more drastic rationing program EBMUD has been considering.

Under terms of the action, during a 12-month period, USBR will provide EBMUD with 75,000 acre-feet of municipal and industrial water. The new allocation will represent about 46 per cent of the current EBMUD consumption of 140 to 145 million gallons a day.

Contracts for the federal water from the American River originally were signed in 1970, but were not scheduled to be activated before the late 1980's.

John S. Harnett, EBMUD general manager called the water "A godsend which may save the district from having to impose far more stringent cutbacks."

EBMUD hopes to be able to begin using the water within 60 to 90 days. The exact date will depend on when EBMUD is able to locate several large pumps to draw the new supply.

EBMUD customers now are under a mandatory rationing program that is designed to reduce consumption by 25 per cent. Until Thursday's announcement, officials had seriously considered requiring customers to reduce water use by 40 to 50 per cent.

Harnett said "even with this supplemental supply from the Bureau, we will still have to ration our water and conserve it carefully. All this means is that future cutbacks will not be as severe as we had expected."

The new supply probably will postpone any reductions for this calendar year, but should next winter be a dry one, more stringent rationing may be required, EBMUD officials say.

In announcing its rationing program several weeks ago, EBMUD said consumption would have to be reduced 25 per cent — from last year's average of 220 million gallons a day to about 160 million gallons a day.

So far customers have cut back, but not enough to provide for an overall 25 per cent reduction. Officials say that to get to the 160 million gallons a day figure, consumption at this time of the year should average 125 million gallons a day.

In announcing the USBR allocation, Harnett said that at the time the current reduction program was conceived, officials assumed there would be at least as much runoff of water from melting snow as there was in each of the driest years on record in California — 1924, 1931 and 1976.

"However," he said, "our storage at Pardee Reservoir, where we presently get approximately 95 per cent of our water, is down to less than one-third of normal, and it now appears that the runoff of water in our Sierra watershed from this winter may be less than half of any previous year."

The Central Valley Project water, originally planned for diversion from the Bureau's Folsom South Canal, will instead be delivered to Middle River in the Delta, where it can be picked up in one of the EBMUD Mokelumne River Aqueducts.

Meanwhile, as EBMUD customers attempt to cope with household allocations of 280 gallons of water a day, requests for additional water continue to pour in.

Paul Fletcher said Thursday that "about 4,000" households had sought additional supplies of water because of a large number of persons in families.

Officials say 60 gallons a day additional water will be granted for each person above and beyond three. No additional water will be provided because of pets or horses.

Requests for exemptions may be made in writing at any EBMUD office.

LEGAL NOTICE

CITY OF PLEASANTON
NOTICE OF PREPARATION OF A NEGATIVE DECLARATION PROJECT DESIGNATION:
Z-77-30

The Design Review Board of the City of Pleasanton has set March 9, 1977, at the hour of 7:15 P.M., Wednesday evening, a regular Design Review Board meeting in the Pleasanton Council Chambers, 30 West Angela Street, Pleasanton, California, as the time and place to consider the following matter:

Application of Douglas Huntz for design review approval of a retail commercial complex to be located on the pie-shaped portion of approximately 0.85 acres at the intersection of Tassajara and Santa Rita Roads. The development would be in two phases: Phase 1 would entail the construction of a 2,080 sq. ft. building with appropriate off-street parking and landscaping; Phase 2 would entail construction of a 6,400 sq. ft. building and additional off-street parking and landscaping. Access is proposed from both Tassajara and Santa Rita Roads.

On the basis of an initial study of the potential environmental impacts of the project, it has been determined that the proposed project would have any potential significant adverse effects on the environment and that an environmental impact report need not be prepared. The Initial Study and Negative Declaration are available for review at the Planning Department, 200 Bern Avenue, Pleasanton, California. Comments on this decision must be received at the Planning Department not later than March 2, 1977, in order to be considered by the Design Review Board prior to their decision on the proposed project.

The Planning Commission of the City of Pleasanton has set March 9, 1977, at the hour of 8:00 P.M., Wednesday evening, a regular Planning Commission meeting in the Pleasanton Council Chambers, 30 West Angela Street, Pleasanton, California, as the time and place to consider the following matter:

Application of P & M Development to rezone an approximately 1.42 acre parcel of land located on the west side of Sonoma Drive between Junipero Street and developed lots to the south of Junipero Street from the RM-2500 (Multiple Residential) District to the PUD (Planned Unit Development) District and for approval of a development plan for a proposed 13-unit garden court home subdivision on the 1.42 acre site.

The proposed development would contain 13 detached "garden court" homes (three fronting on Junipero Street, the remainder on Sonoma Drive) constructed on zero lot lines and single story in height. The overall density would be about 9.1 dwelling units per acre and the homes would sell for about $45,000-$50,000.

On the basis of an Initial Study of the potential environmental impacts of the project, it has been determined that the proposed project would not have any potential significant adverse effects on the environment and that an environmental impact report need not be prepared. The Design Review Board of the City of Pleasanton has set March 9, 1977, at the hour of 7:15 P.M., Wednesday evening, a regular Design Review Board meeting in the Pleasanton Council Chambers, 30 West Angela Street, Pleasanton, California, as the time and place to consider the following matter:

Application of Canessa & Associates for design review approval for a mini-warehouse development proposed to be located at 3716 Stanley Boulevard (the old Berry farm swimming pool site). The proposed development would consist of long (160, 180, 200 and 270 feet), narrow (30 feet) mini-warehouse buildings, single story in height, separated into individual "bays." The 9.25 acre site would be developed in the following manner: Phase 1 would include 8 buildings containing 46,500 sq. ft. of storage space and 1,200 sq. ft. of office and watchmen's living quarters on approximately 2.8 acres of the site; Phase 2 would include 6 buildings containing 30,600 sq. ft. of storage space approximately 1.5 acres; and later development of an unknown nature would fill out the remainder 2.4 acres of the development. Creek bed and street dedications reduce the 9.25 acre size of the parcel to about 6.7 acres.

On the basis of an Initial Study of the potential environmental impacts of the project, it has been determined that the proposed project would have any potential significant adverse effects on the environment and that an environmental impact report need not be prepared. Application of the City for an amendment to the General Plan which would change the land use designation of an approximately 51 acre area located immediately south of the Arroyo Mochi and east of Martin Avenue (if extended northward to the Arroyo Mochi) from "Sand and Gravel Harvesting" to "Medium Density Residential" use.

The property, presently in the county but within Pleasanton's planning area, lies adjacent to the Kaiser sand and gravel lands to the south and to planned medium density residential land to the west. The property is not planned presently to be used for sand and gravel harvesting. No development proposals for this property are anticipated for many years as the property lies outside Pleasanton's 20-year urbanization line.

On the basis of an Initial Study of the potential environmental impacts of the project, it has been determined that the proposed project would not have any potential significant adverse effects on the environment and that an environmental impact report need not be prepared. # Hi Neighbor

Times

SERVING DUBLIN · LIVERMORE · PLEASANTON · SAN RAMON

FEBRUARY 20, 1977

Hello — the Valley welcomes you

Hi neighbor,

If you're new to the area, you'll find this special section just what you've been seeking.

If you've been here for awhile, you'll find useful facts and information, no matter which community you call your home.

There's something for everybody here in the Valley from pristine hillsides surrounding Del Valle Reservoir to revitalized shopping hubs in the cities.

The Valley is split in two counties. Dublin, Livermore, Pleasanton and Sunol are located in Alameda County. San Ramon is in Contra Costa County.

Livermore and Pleasanton are general law cities, with city managers and elected city councils. Council members select a mayor in both communities.

Dublin is an unincorporated town governed by Alameda County, and by the Valley Community Services District, which provides some essential services like fire protection, water and recreation.

San Ramon is also unincorporated, falling under the jurisdiction of Contra Costa County, and in part, the Valley Community Services District.

History abounds in the Valley, from Livermore's Carnegie Building, to old St. Raymond's Church in Dublin. Industry is a colorful blend of vintners, gravel quarry operators and nuclear scientists.

The Valley is one of the Bay Area's most active recreation areas, with two lakes in the regional park system and a plethora of golf courses.

On the following pages we'll help you become better acquainted with the Valley, its schools, churches, hospitals, and its people.

Keep the entire section. It will serve as a handy guide for living here.

Alameda County services

Welcome to Alameda County, fifth most populous in the state with some 1.2 million people scattered from the Bay Basin to the Altamont Hills.

With the County Seat centered in the five-story Administration Building at 12th and Oak streets in downtown Oakland, two "tie-lines" have been established to ease the phone bills of tax payers trying to contact their government.

Oakland offices may be reached toll free through 846-3277; county offices in Hayward via 846-4457.

The Oakland building headquarters the administrative end of county government, while the Hayward building houses planning and public works.

The Valley is in the county's First Supervisorial District, and is represented by the county's first woman supervisor, Valerie Raymond of Livermore. Her administrative aide Virginia Loewe can be contacted at 443-3949 in the Valley.

The following list encompasses county offices, departments and services for tax paying residents of the first district.

***
Assessor's office, Oakland, extension 6036. Appraises real property for taxes; homeowners' and veterans' exemptions; personal property. County Assessor: Don Hutchinson.

***
Assessment Appeals Board, Oakland, extension 5454. Hears appeal on tax assessments.

***
Board of Education, Hayward, extension 6201. Special education including the physically and mentally handicapped. Offers programs where a single school district does not have the enrollment to justify special classes. Board member Virginia Birdsall represents the Valley.

***
Building inspection, Hayward, extension 6423. Inspects buildings, houses and other structures in the unincorporated parts of the county. Advises the board of supervisors whether substandard structures should be removed. Building official Victor L. Taugher oversees the department.

***
County Clerk, Oakland, extension 5121. Handles all official filings, corporations and fictitious names, marriage licenses, naturalization, appeals to district and appellate courts. Rene Davidson is the county Clerk-Recorder.

***
County Counsel, Oakland, extension 5576. Represents the county in all legal matters; advises the board of supervisors of the county's legal positions in litigations. Chief County Counsel is Richard Moor.

***
Superior Courts, Oakland, extension 6184. The courts are housed in both the Administration Building and the old County Courthouse across the street facing Lake Merritt. There are 28 superior court departments in the county.

***
District Attorney, Oakland, extension 6565. The county's prosecutor and his department handle all criminal matters, including consumer fraud (ext. 5656). Lowell

See 'Alameda,' pg. 3

Contra Costa County offers many services

Have you ever wondered where your tax money goes?

The following list includes Contra Costa County offices, departments and services for residents, plus a brief explanation of the functions of each.

***
County animal control division, 4849 Imhoff Drive, Martinez, near intersection of State Highway 4 and Interstate 680. Open Mon. through Fri., 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Enforces dog license laws, picks up stray animals and disposes of unwanted animals. Limited pet adoption service. Phone 972-2995. Director Charles Crill.

***
County administrator's office, Pine at Escobar streets, Martinez. Phone 372-4080. Oversees operation of county government, provides people with general information about tax rates and county government. Arthur G. Will, administrator.

***
County assessor's office, county finance building, Court St., Martinez. Phone 372-2252. This is where people with tax bill problems can go. Office handles homeowners and veterans tax exemptions and assessment of property. Fred Wanaka, assessor.

***
Board of supervisors, county administration building, Pine at Escobar streets, Martinez. Phone 372-2371. Office handles all mail for county board of supervisors, records minutes of meetings and is responsible for preparing weekly board agenda.

County clerk's office, courthouse, Martinez. Phone 372-2950. This is where people may get marriage and dog licenses, passports, file for dissolution of marriage, and file civil lawsuits. Criminal and juvenile records kept. Clerk - recorder, James Olsson.

***
District attorney's office, courthouse, Martinez. Phone 372-4500. Handles prosecution of all criminal cases in Contra Costa. Office has special consumer fraud division and is responsible for collecting child support payments. William O'Malley, district attorney.

***
Office of Economic Opportunity, 1152 Green St., Martinez. Phone 372-2227. Office oversees county's myriad poverty programs. Director, George Johnson.

***
Office of Emergency Services, 50 Glacier Drive, Martinez. Phone 228-5000. Helps residents in case of disaster or emergency. Director, Will Perry.

Volunteers — there to help

The major source of volunteerism in the Valley rests with the Valley Volunteer Bureau, located at 287 Rose Ave. (upstairs) in Pleasanton.

Development of a volunteer bureau was initiated in the fall of 1974 by citizens in the Valley who felt a need to establish a clearing house in the community where human needs could be matched with human resources. No such local service had ever been implemented in the area.

The Valley Volunteer Bureau officially began serving the public on Oct. 1, 1975.

Primary goal of the Bureau is to recruit individuals and groups from the community and to match them with the current needs of non-profit agencies or organizations.

Other objectives of the agency include: consultations to agencies establishing volunteer programs; extensive outreach to utilize the non-traditional volunteer; proposing new programs where there are gaps in service; and coordinating, recruiting and training efforts in community agencies.

Potentially this agency can serve any citizen in the Valley, i.e., any persons wishing to do volunteer work, any of more than 50 non-profit agencies utilizing services of volunteers, and any individual in legitimate need of a volunteer's services.

The Valley Volunteer Bureau recently established a Youth Volunteer Program with Phoebe Baxter of Livermore as director.

The Bureau's day-to-day activities are directed by Betty Stallings, under direction from a Board of Directors composed of Kay Honodel, chairwoman, Nancy Cotton, Bertha Carr, Ray Griggs, Judy Arashiro, Evelyn King, Al Fischer, Richard Howell, Joy Milliken, Sam Roberson, Marty Wadekamper, Pat Wagle, Randa Lee Walton, and Fran Williams.

Board meetings are held once a month, usually at the Presbyterian Church in Pleasanton.

For more information on the Valley Volunteer Bureau, call Monday through Friday between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m., 462-3570.

Schools — community concern

The school districts of the Valley are not only at the top of the major employers, but are doubtlessly "numero uno" in terms of citizen involvement and concern.

Public school districts in the Valley range from the one-school district in Sunol (Sunol Glen) to the kindergarten through twelfth grade San Ramon Valley Unified School District, largest and fastest growing of all.

Livermore is the only other unified district in the Valley with schools housing grades kindergarten through twelfth grade.

The Amador Valley Joint High School District, which serves Pleasanton, Dublin and Sunol, has four campuses — Amador Valley, Dublin, Foothill and Valley Continuation.

Pleasanton Joint School District and Murray School District are both kindergarten through eighth grade operations.

Murray's central offices are on Brighton Avenue in Dublin and Murray Board of Trustees meetings are rotated in alphabetical order among the nine schools in the district.

The facilities as presently setup include Murray (K-6), Fallon (K-6), Dublin (K-8), Nielsen (K-8), Frederiksen (K-6), Cronin (K-6) and Wells (7-8) in Dublin and Donlon (K-8) and Lydixsen (K-6) in Pleasanton.

Murray board meetings are scheduled the first and third Mondays at 8 p.m., rotating meeting places as noted. For specific information concerning schools or board meeting locations and agendas, call district offices at 828-2551.

Pleasanton and Amador schools operate with a common central administration, based at 123 Main St. in Pleasanton. Superintendent is Dr. Bruce C. Newlin, now in his third year.

Pleasanton school board meetings are scheduled the first Wednesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. at district offices.

Amador rotates its meetings, the second Tuesday of each month, between district offices, Dublin High library and Foothill High library. Meetings convene at 8 p.m.

The San Ramon Valley Unified School District includes elementary, junior high and high schools in San Ramon, Danville, and Alamo. Central district offices are on Old Orchard Drive in Danville.

San Ramon school board meetings are slated the first and third Mondays of the month at 7:30 p.m. at district offices. For specific school information, call the district offices at 837-1511.

Sunol Glen School, which includes grades kindergarten through eighth grade, is administered by a five-person school board like all other districts and a superintendent - principal, George Bury.

School board meetings are usually scheduled the second Monday of the month at 8 p.m. at the school.

Eighth grade graduates of Sunol Glen usually attend Amador district high schools.

For more specific information on Sunol Glen School, call 862-2026.

Additional information on Amador and Pleasanton schools and board meetings may be obtained by calling 462-5500.

Livermore district

Changing school logistics

LIVERMORE — The logistics of educating Livermore's 14,000 school-age children are about to change dramatically.

Next September, the district will be completing an $11 million building program which will renovate two intermediate schools and add permanent "cores" to four elementary schools. In addition, there will be a new elementary school at the south end of town on Frankfurt Way.

This year, the district has been busing hundreds of children from crowded neighborhoods to schools in older parts of town where the population is more stable and there are a few empty desks.

The building program voted in two years ago called for major or minor improvements in almost all of the district's 22 schools. Granada High on Wall Street will have for the first time a cafeteria capable of serving hot meals and indoor facilities where students may gather at lunchtime. At Livermore High, improvements to the library have already been completed and there will be more classroom space at both schools thanks to portable wings which will be brought in.

The district office has virtually doubled in size with addition of office and warehouse space built onto the three-year-old Education Center. Plans call for a longer-term warehouse at Green School, an old elementary school on the northeastern edge of Livermore which will be closed down when an enlarged Christensen School is completed closer to the population center.

Livermore school facts and figures

Here's a handy list of who's who and what's where in the Livermore Unified School District:

Headquarters: Education Center, 685 Las Positas Blvd., 447-9500.

Superintendent of Schools: Leo R. Croce. Assistants, Dr. Justin "Rick" Bardellini, instruction; Bruce Jamieson, business.

Special Education: Ardis Loonie, coordinator, 447-9500.

Transportation: Dewey Hudson, supervisor, 443-0100.

Psychology, counseling, testing: Richard B. Jenkins, Director of Pupil Services, 447-9500.

School Board: Manuel Prado, president; Betty Carrell, Dr. James J. McFarlane, James T. Davis. Elections March 8 for four of the five board seats.

Meetings: Public school board meetings regularly scheduled at 7:30 p.m. first and third Tuesdays in the administration building, 685 Las Positas Blvd.; special meetings as announced.

You're never far from the hospital

There's a reminder of Valley Memorial Hospital in every town in the Valley.

Drive out Alcosta Boulevard between Dublin and San Ramon and you'll come to the cheery Family Medical Center. That's operated by VMH to offer doctor's office-type services to people in the area who would otherwise have to travel as far as Walnut Creek or Hayward to go to their family physician.

Besides being a good place to go to have that sore throat looked at, the center has access to quick lab services and can even handle emergencies such as a broken bone, bleeding or heart attack.

The hours are long — 9 to 9, seven days a week — and it's usually easy to get an appointment when you want it, by calling 829-5050.

Then there's the hospital-operated medical lab in Pleasanton, where patients can go to get a blood test and doctors can send their specimens without shipping them out of town. The VMH lab is located at 1436 Cedarwood Lane, Suite E, telephone 462-3366.

Then there's the main hospital itself, 1111 E. Stanley Blvd, boasting 108 beds with an expansion program underway to offer more intensive and coronary care units and a sophisticated whole-body X-ray machine. In addition, the VMH board is planning a much larger medical center for the future, to be located off Santa Rita Road in Pleasanton.

Help with lost pets starts soon

MARTINEZ — Starting Feb. 22, lost dogs and cats in Contra Costa County will have more than 60 friends looking out for their welfare.

On that date a corps of volunteers will start a new service for animal owners and those who would like to adopt a pet.

From 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Saturday, volunteers will be at the county's animal control center in Martinez at 4849 Imhoff Drive.

One person will greet visitors and answer questions.

Another will answer calls to the volunteers' special phone number, 798-1773.

Anyone calling the latter number will be advised on placing an unwanted animal, finding a lost pet or adopting a new one.

Reva Fox, coordinator of the volunteer group, said volunteers have had special training. They range in age from high school students to senior citizens. Fox said more helpers are needed.

Please note this is a Monday through Saturday service but it is starting Tuesday of next week.

Newcomers best way to meet new people

Ever feel lonely or lost in your new community? Everyone does. That's why the Newcomers clubs in Pleasanton, Livermore and Dublin are designed especially to smooth the way toward new friendships and new experiences for the area's newest residents.

The three clubs are among the most popular, most active and friendliest in the community because they are really dedicated to making newcomers "feel at home."

The clubs appeal especially to young mothers with preschool children, or retired women, both examples of those with limited outside contact. However, members include women of all ages, and many activities are geared toward couples.

Colleen Sabbe of San Ramon is outspoken in her approval of the Dublin-San Ramon Newcomers Club. "I've moved five times in six years, and it's the best way to beat loneliness."

Her club numbers about 120 who convene for a monthly luncheon, and then participate in a dozen special interest groups. The next luncheon for the Dublin-San Ramon Newcomers is set March 17 at Panchito's Restaurant in Walnut Creek. Reservations should be made by March 11.

The club also hosts monthly orientation coffees for prospective members, with the next coffee planned March 8 at 10 a.m. Further details and a warm welcome are available from Mrs. Sabbe who may be reached at 828-7372.

Among special interest groups in the Dublin-San Ramon Newcomers Club are a newly-formed book review group which meets

Tuesday evenings, a needlecraft group which gathers every other Thursday evening, a supper club which samples restaurant fare the first Saturday of each month, an open bridge group which convenes the first Thursday at the Carnation Restaurant, and a women's gourmet group which samples once a month.

A monthly newsletter keeps all members abreast of this round of activity.

Introducing new residents to each other and to community resources is the first priority of President Ellen Scharffenberg of the Livermore Newcomers Club.

Her club is 150-strong and growing. The list of inter-club groups now includes bowling, biking, tennis, arts and crafts, cook 'n taste, cuisine, bridge, pinochle, bargain - hunting, and a couple's supper club called the Gad-about Gourmands.

A series of mini-courses on such topics as Chinese cooking, canning, flower arranging and cake decorating was recently introduced by the club. Instructors are club members who are happy to share their expertise with others.

Prospective members will be greeted at an orientation set March 2 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Betsy Sanger, 5181 Diane Ct., Livermore. New residents may contact Sue Richards, membership chairman, for more information at 443-3756.

A luncheon on the third Wednesday of the month takes the club at large to different restaurants in the area. Next month's meeting convenes at the Dublin Refectory March 16. Reservations may be made through Kit at 455-9119.

The Pleasanton Newcomers Club boasts almost 300 members and special interest groups such as bowling, monthly women's bridge (morning and evening), monthly bridge for couples, three bunko groups, crafts, tennis, pinochle and gourmet cooking. Dances and fashion shows are planned for members and guests twice yearly.

New residents may be included in an introductory reception March 16 by calling Janet at 462-1353. The next meeting for the club at large is set for March at the Emperor's Garden Restaurant in Livermore, with babysitting provided at the Presbyterian Church nearby. Reservations may be made through Pat Pearce at 462-4716.

How to insure security

Residential burglaries account for nearly half of all crimes reported. But Valley residents can reduce the chance of loss by participating in Operation ID, a cooperative program between police and the public.

Electronic engraving pens are available free for a three-day loan at the Pleasanton police station, sheriff's department in Dublin, and police and fire departments in Livermore.

By permanently marking valuables with their drivers license numbers, residents protect themselves in case of theft. If recovered, a stolen item with engraved license number can be instantly traced through a state-wide computer network, even if the owner moved to another state.

Livermore police reported a 46 per cent drop in the value of goods stolen over a one year period, even though the rate of burglaries declined only 4 per cent. Police attribute the difference to burglars' reluctance to steal higher-priced items which may be recorded.

Persons found possessing items with serial numbers removed are in violation of the law.

When the engraving pen is returned, police supply residents with a window sticker declaring the home's contents are protected under Operation ID.

Police also conduct free safety checks at resident's request, looking for unsecured windows, loose door latches and other potential weak points. They will provide a checklist of things that need to be corrected, such as installing deadbolt locks, timers for lights, or other needed items.

Myriad of activities offered in churches

Free films and concerts, music workshops, pageants, lectures and seminars, boutiques and picnics, snow trips and dances, singles clubs and youth groups, golf contests and old fashioned days. These are only a few of the recreational and educational activities, in addition to the religious services provided by the over sixty churches serving this area.

Religious functions and services are constantly available to people of all faiths and to the public at large. Our churches are very alert to the changing needs of the public and are on the forefront of religious activity. Nationwide interest was focused on Pleasanton in January when the Rev. Susan Bergmans of St. Clare's Episcopal Church became the first woman in California to be ordained as an Episcopal priest.

Later in January, Dublin's Valley Christian Center invited Eldridge Cleaver to give testimony of his conversion to Christianity. This event drew national interest, television coverage, and a crowd of up to 4000 people to Dublin High School gymnasium.

Concerts and workshops by outstanding musicians and composers have often been sponsored by our local churches. Last fall, the Valley Covenant Ministry Council, a council representing ten churches, sponsored the David Yantis Music Workshop, an outstanding community event, and on Feb. 27 this year, at Livermore Presbyterian Church, they will sponsor the Fifth Annual Choir Festival, to be conducted this year by one of the most prominent composers of choral music of this century, Dale Wood. Eleven church choirs of the area will participate and will number over 150 voices. Woods has appeared on major television. This concert is free to the public.

Educational opportunities are often available through the churches here, including seminars on marriage and parenthood, group and individual counseling, family programs for personal growth and spiritual growth.

The United Presbyterian Community Church of Pleasanton will hold Hebrew lessons beginning on Feb. 17, and a marriage enrichment weekend at Lake Tahoe, March 12 and 13. Livermore Presbyterian Church recently announced diversified Adult Education classes which will include a series of speakers on "Growth in the Livermore-Amador Valley," with Mayor Helen Tirsell as guest speaker on Feb. 20, a series on Korea, including a speaker on the Moon movement, and the ongoing evening classes concerning the quantity and quality of food, with prominent guest speakers. On Feb. 16, Dr. Clyde Hawley will speak on "Foods, Good and Bad." There is no charge for these classes.

These are but a few of the programs of our valley churches, serving the varied needs of the valley.

Regional parks prominent out here

Camping, swimming, fishing, riding and sailing are offered in the Valley — thanks to the East Bay Regional Park system.

Headquartered at 11500 Skyline Blvd., Oakland, EBRPD staff run a two-county park system that features 36 parks (27 of them operational and the rest being developed or held in "land bank" status).

Local parks include:

Sunol: Sunol Regional Wilderness has a small campground, and a big woodsy area to explore on foot or horseback. There are naturalist programs on weekends, a stream for wading and picnic ground.

The park is reached off Calaveras Road, which is an exit off I-680.

Del Valle: Largest of the local parks, Del Valle Recreation Area has a big campground with facilities for campers as well as tents; miles of pebbly shoreline for fishing and swimming; canoes, sailboats and rowboats for rent; concession stands and picnic grounds.

It can be reached by taking the North Livermore Avenue exit off I-580 and heading through the center of town and out the other side on South Livermore Avenue. A small sign marks the turnoff through vineyards onto Mines Road and another sign points to the short mountain road that ends at Del Valle Lake.

Shadow Cliffs: Conveniently located on East Stanley Boulevard, a thoroughfare between Pleasanton and Livermore, this unusual park was made from flooded gravel pits. There's a big lake, sandy beach, fishing areas, boat launch and paddle-wheel or rowboats for rent.

Soccer heads up sports boom

Youth sports abound in the valley. Soccer and baseball, in particular, flourish.

In the fall, winter, spring — in fact, year 'round — local kids kick those white and black balls around.

In Pleasanton, the Ballistic United Soccer Club runs the boys program while Pleasanton United is in charge of the girls teams. Both are private organizations, but welcome all players and receive cooperation from the city in scheduling games at various parks and schools.

Livermore consolidated a plethora of programs several years ago into the Livermore Youth Soccer Club for boys and the Livermore Girls Soccer Club.

Dublin United runs both programs in that community while a loosely-affiliated pair of organizations put together the Mustang - San Ramon Club for those in San Ramon, Alamo and Danville.

All fall under the jurisdiction of the California Youth Soccer Association's District III and field select teams in each age group; under-10, under-12, under-14, under-16 and under-19; to play in the Al Caffodio League, named for one of the founding fathers of local kids soccer.

Local teams have been quite successful, winning numerous state cups and traveling to as far ranging places as Canada and Europe in addition to covering the United States from Milwaukee to Las Vegas.

In baseball, the nationwide Little League baseball program is the most prolific, sporting little (9-12) and senior (13-15) leagues in all areas of the valley.

Granada, Livermore National and Livermore American blanket Livermore, Pleasanton National and Pleasanton American reign in that town while Dublin, too, has a league. San Ramon's league is complicated

See 'It's,' pg. 13

Meat-cutting class offered

The Regional Occupational Program here in the Amador - Livermore Valley provides automotive and meat-cutting classes for high school students, out-of-school youths and adults.

Administered by a joint powers agreement, ROP has provided fully equipped auto service and auto body repair buildings and a complete meat-cutting building, including a cold storage area, freezer area, meat smoking area and a general meat-cutting area with all the equipment needs to cut and wrap a side of beef.

These buildings are located on the Livermore High School campus and students are bussed in to the two-hour block classes daily.

Administered by Roy Isler, these are just a few of the programs offered by ROP. For further information, call Isler at Foothill High, 462-1615, ext. 40.

by the fact that it's named the Dublin Valley Little League.

In addition to their massive in-house programs, each league fields a Big League team for those 16-18 years of age.

Babe Ruth (13-15) and Senior Babe Ruth (16-18) rival those programs while Bobby Sox softball serves girls 8-15 in Livermore and Pleasanton.

But, while those sports are the most widespread, there are others.

The Tri-Valley Pop Warner Football fields teams in various weight and age divisions in both Livermore and Dublin and recently expanded the program, which travels the East Bay to meet various opponents.

The Pleasanton Junior Football League offers a low-key, no-cut approach to the gridiron sport for younger kids.

Basketball programs are sponsored by the Dublin and Pleasanton recreation departments while Dublin Iceland hosts the Tri-Valley Minor Hockey Association, which fields ice hockey teams for kids of all ages.

Swimming abounds, with the Livermore Aquacowboys, Pleasanton Thunderbirds and NorCal Aquatics operating out of the local high school pools. Swimming age groups start at under-8 and go to 15-18.

Boxing is available for interested teenagers through the Livermore Boxing Club or the Pleasanton Athletic League.

Las Positas Golf Course in Livermore runs a series of beginning and intermediate tournaments for youngsters during the summer while Granada Bowl sports an extensive youth program.

The Livermore Tennis Club and Pleasanton Racquet Club each sponsor junior tournaments during the summer while both towns are stops on the summer tour for highly - competitive junior players.

Dublin - you can thank the Irish

DUBLIN — Legend claims the unincorporated area now known as Dublin was given its name by landowner James W. Dougherty of Tennessee.

He acquired a parcel of land belonging to Jose M. Amador's Rancho San Ramon and settled on it after 1852. The property was divided by a road known at the turn of the century as Lincoln's highway. Now, it is called Interstate 580.

The story goes that Dougherty called the portion south of the road Dublin since so many Irishmen had settled there. On Hoffman's map of the bay region, the area north of the road is labeled, Dougherty.

The first post office was established in the 1860's. It was named Dougherty's Station. In 1890, the name was changed to Dublin.

The first subdivision as we know them today was built in 1960. Current population based on 1975 census figures is 14,244.

Dublin is in Alameda County within the Livermore - Amador Valley.

It is in the first district. Valerie Raymond is the county supervisor within that district. She has an office in Fremont and in Oakland.

There are six elementary schools, one intermediate and one high school serving Dublin.

Since the area is not incorporated, some services are provided by The Valley Community Services District (VCSD). They provide parks, recreation, fire protection, sewer and water. Refuse collection is offered but VCSD contracts with a private company for this service.

Police protection, libraries, street maintenance, planning and zoning are provided by the county.

A feasibility study regarding incorporation is being made by the Dublin Chamber of Commerce. This is one of their many community service projects. Their findings will be made available to the public. The chamber itself is neither pro or con on the issue.

Where to turn in Dublin

DUBLIN — Some of the services available in Dublin are:

Dublin Chamber of Commerce: — 7996 Amador Valley Blvd., 828-6200. Provides information of local interest, distributes gold cards to senior citizens (age 62 and above) that entitles the bearers to discounts in local stores whose owners participate in the program. Maps are available as well as fact sheets that are geared to show newcomers what businesses and other services are in the Dublin area. A Teen-Power program is operated by the chamber to help teens, ages 14 to 18, find summer jobs.

Dublin Public Library — 6930 Village Parkway,

828-1315. This library is part of the Alameda County Library system. There is an inter-loan arrangement between the branches. The Dublin Public Library provides excellent children's programs along with intermediate and adult facilities. They have a research department that has access to other branch departments plus a special research program in Oakland. A new library is on the drawing boards. It will be located across from Starward Drive in Dublin. A completion date has not been set.

The Valley Community Services District — Administrative Office, 7051 Dublin Blvd, 828-0515; Fire

Dept., emergency calls only, 881-8181, business office, 9399 Fircrest Lane in San Ramon, 829-2333; Parks and Recreation Dept, Shannon Park Community Center, 11600 Shannon Ave., Dublin, 828-7711; San Ramon Olympic Pool, 9870 Broadmoor Drive, San Ramon, 829-5334; Valley Community Swim Center, 8151 Village Parkway, Dublin, 829-2828; Refuse Collection and Disposal Service, 447-1300; Sewage Treatment Plant, 6950 Stoneridge Drive, Pleasanton, 846-4565, Water Dept., 828-0515.

San Ramon's big rise

SAN RAMON — Originally, this unincorporated area was part of the 13,000 acre Rancho San Ramon which was granted in 1834 to Jose Maria Amador by Governor Figueroa.

In the same year the first farm house was built at a site on 4,500 of these acres near Norris Canyon Road in San Ramon.

Later, fence posts made of willow trees taken from banks of a nearby stream took root and grew. Some of the resulting trees can still be seen in back of the house on Norris Canyon Road.

According to 1975 census figures, San Ramon's population is 12,749. San Ramon joined Danville and Alamo in a proposed incorporation movement in 1976. Proponents of the issue maintained they would have a more effective voice in their local government through incorporation. The measure was voted down on the Nov. 2 ballot leaving local control in the hands of the county.

The availability of open land in the San Ramon Valley have caused it to become a prime housing area with skyrocketing land prices. Property taxes took an equal jump upwards.

Property taxes in the San Ramon Valley increased in 1976 between 25 and 70 per cent. The average hit the 30 to 40 per cent range.

Another of San Ramon's problems is the fact it lies within two counties. From Alameda north it is in Contra Costa County; southward, it is in Alameda County. This causes unique problems as far as provided services are concerned.

VCSD services the Alameda portion but there is some overlapping into the Contra Costa side.

There are three elementary schools available and one high school. They are Neil Armstrong, Country Club, Walt Disney and California High School.

An intermediate school is being built at Pine Valley Road. A fall completion date is proposed.

Citizens aid city workings

PLEASANTON — The city's department of recreation and human services is linked to two advisory commissions.

The older of the two is the park and recreation commission. It advises the city council and staff on matters affecting recreation programs and the creation and maintenance of parks. Jerry Wilfley is its chairperson and the group meets at 8 p.m. on the fourth Wednesday of the month in the City Council Chambers.

The human services commission is just a few months old. It was created to assess the social needs of the community and match up needy persons with existing agencies. Its chairperson is Sharon Kosch and the group meets at 8 p.m. on the first Wednesday of the month in the City Council Chambers.

Who could predict Livermore growth?

LIVERMORE — When William Mendenhall subdivided 600 acres of land in this part of the Valley 108 years ago and gave 20 acres to the Central Pacific Railroad to insure a good train station for his town, he probably never envisioned growth to a population of 50,000.

People came here to ranch. They came here to retire. They came seeking a recreation spot. They came here to work.

Livermore has a special feeling, a refuge from the maddening world of population centers nearby. Gentle rolling hills surround the Livermore Valley, filled with plump grapes, fluffy sheep and majestic steeds roaming golden fields.

The town was incorporated in 1876, along a trade route used since early Indian days. It was a nice resting spot, between humid coastal regions and the hotter, drier San Joaquin Valley to the east.

From a quiet agricultural community with some small industries the area became oriented to science when the University of California's Lawrence Livermore Radiation Laboratory and Westinghouse's Sandia Laboratory located east of town. These facilities do work in nuclear research; city officials are even considering adopting a new city slogan, "Research Center of the West."

The population has grown from 2,500 in the 1920's to the present 50,000 — a phenomenal growth due to the establishment of the labs and development of freeways, providing easy access to the financial and industrial centers of the Bay Area.

The city boasts public golf courses, swimming pools, parks, playgrounds and tennis courts, like most cities. The local airport adds another dimension, paving the way to sky-diving enthusiasts, sports plane flying, ballooning and soaring activity.

Livermore services

Find the officials

LIVERMORE — A city of 50,000 people, politically organized, has many agencies to tackle specific needs and goals. Here is a list of the major agencies a resident may want to contact:

City Hall — located in several buildings near the intersection of First Street and Livermore Avenue, where Lizzie Fountain spurts into the air. Whether planning a patio or a major complex, getting a dog license or arguing about one, the number to call is 447-2100. City Manager is Bill Parness.

City Council — The policy-making body of the city meets Mondays, 8 p.m., in the Municipal Court Building, near the same intersection. Members include Mayor Helen Tirsell, Dale Turner Glen Dahlbacka, Marshall Kamena and John Staley.

Planning Commission — Before your items go to the council for a final decision, you may be referred to this advisory group which meets the same place, 7:30 p.m., Tuesdays. Members include Chairwoman Brenda Souza, Candy Simonen, Jim Sadler, Ray Brice and Bill Zagotta. Both council and planning commission rely on advice from a number of other committees and commissions.

Chamber of Commerce — Working for a healthy business climate, the chamber is active through several committees. Current president is Bob Bruns. For more information contact General Manager John Strong, 447-1606. Chamber office is at 1723 Barcelona Street.

Livermore Area Recreation and Park District — Better known as LARPD, the recreation district covers the east end of the Livermore Valley. Call 447-7300 for a brochure on numerous activities, from senior citizen singing to teenage excursions to snow country to Tiny Tots scrambling in a playground. General Manager is Bill Payne. LARPD offices are located at 71 Trevarno Road.

Livermore Airport — Whether you want to tie down an aircraft, find a hangar for it, or just want to hop a commuter plane to somewhere else in the Bay Area, contact Airport Supervisor Gene Maestas for additional information at 443-1600. Airport committee

SRV library's hours listed

SAN RAMON — The San Ramon Valley Library is located at 555 South Hartz Avenue, Danville.

It is open Monday through Thursday from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Friday and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Marilyn Millis is the head librarian. The phone number is 837-4889.

meets first Monday, noon luncheon at the Red Baron Restaurant adjacent to the airport. Members include Chairman John Kerekes, Steve Patenaude, Daryl Mailander and Al Dishman.

Seniors' group meets in Dublin

LIVERMORE — Volunteers will be on duty at the Senior Service Center to help senior citizens prepare their income tax forms Saturdays, Feb. 26 and March 5, from 9 a.m. to noon.

Seniors needing assistance with their forms should visit the center, at 8th and H streets. Phone 443-1150 for further information.

Pleasanton

Streets ajar, but it's still pleasant

PLEASANTON — "Pleasanton is a great hideout town, the last good one in the county," said the old racetracker.

"Alameda used to be good, too. It's like the old movie where Humphrey Bogart or somebody escapes from Alcatraz and swims to Alameda. 'Nobody ever goes to Alameda,' he says. Well, that's the way Pleasanton is. Or was."

Or was is right. The place used to be a quiet farming community with a few commuters taking the trains to San Francisco back in the '20's or '30's. Phoebe Apperson Hearst's big place up on the ridge was turned into a dude ranch about that time by the Marshalls and even a few radio celebrities managed to make it on out to the live, remote broadcasts that emanated from what now is Castlewood Country Club.

Not that Pleasanton was ever stranger to the famous. Mary Pickford had her golden curls photographed in daring black and white on Main Street and the racetrack was background for an old Abbott and Costello movie. Four presidents stayed at the old Rose Hotel, now the site of Bank of America's parking lot.

It was Hometown, USA, in those days and that kind of nostalgia helped developers sell the new homes they built on the old hop fields and cow pastures. Now the town has 34,000 folks living in it, quite a few of them commuters, none of them taking the train, unless they catch it at the Hayward BART station.

They say people live up to their names. It seems that way with Pleasanton, with most residents considering the town a pleasant one. Actually the town was named after a civil war general, Pleasanton, as were a couple of others across the nation back in the days when forming "new towns" was quite the rage. Inevitably someone misspelled the word slightly to get today's spelling, probably someone who looked around the gracious tree-lined streets and thought the founders of the town meant to say it was a pleasant one. Such are Chamber of Commerce slogans born.

Speaking of trees, around 1900 the city leaders thought it would be nice to have a bit of history transplanted here. They got some acorns and small trees from Sherwood Forest and you can still see five or six of them surviving in old Kottinger Park near the police reserve building on Kottinger Avenue.

And speaking of Kottinger, he was the fellow who helped plat some of the town. So did Joshua Neal. Unfortunately the two of them platted separate sides of town and they couldn't agree on the alignment of Division Street. Apparently some of the other streets also are offset as a result of that disagreement, something that may have been quaint in horse and wagon days, but is disconcerting to motorists.

People who run the city

PLEASANTON — People with a complaint, a compliment, or who just plain need information may want to know who to ask for when dealing with city hall. Here is a list of city hall personnel who often come in contact with the public.

The top person at city hall is the city manager. That's Bill Edgar, who is going to a job in Sacramento and will be replaced in a couple of months. Acting in his stead meanwhile will be Assistant City Manager Alan Campbell. He has responsibility for the engineering side of city government.

The city manager has two other assistants, Jim Walker, who handles the figures for the city budget, and Larry Miller, who deals with the city's personnel needs.

Planning Director Robert Harris has a great deal of contact with developers and the public and is assisted by Planning Analyst Richard Glenn and Planning Aide Brian Swift. Also in the building area, Chuck Dobbins is the city's chief building inspector.

Don Sooby, the city's director of engineering services, makes many appearances at city council meetings to explain future street designs and improvements to existing curbs, streets and gutters and an occasional traffic signal installation. People with questions about traffic engineering, things like speed limits and crosswalks, can go to Traffic Engineer Ken Lamb.

The day to day street and park maintenance is administered by Director of Public Works Field Services Arnold Eaton.

If you have a question about what happened at a city council meeting, Doris George is the Deputy City

Pleasanton agencies all in one number

PLEASANTON — One phone call does it all — you can reach any city service by calling 846-3202.

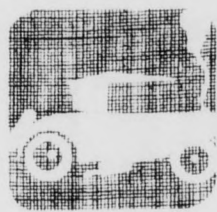

If the service is not in that building, the switchboard operator can refer you to another number.

Offices located in city hall include planning, personnel, city manager, water, recreation and human resources, engineering, building inspection, city clerk, mayor's office, and traffic.

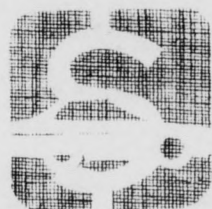

Fire and police are in other buildings, but are reached through the 846-3202 exchange. Street services and the wastewater treatment plant may be reached directly by calling 846-4438.

The Housing Authority, which has a separate staff from the city, is located at Komandorski Village on Dougherty Road in Dublin and may be reached at 828-3132.

Remember when?

DO YOU REMEMBER?

... when the Valley still clung to its fame for "hay, hops, horses and grapes" ... when we raised great bunches of tomatoes, rather than children ... when much of this rich soil was still patterned by the plow ... as in this scene looking north from Pleasanton ... past an upstart "San Ramon Village" which seemed like a minor disturbance in the great, uncluttered sweep that continued on through the valley of San Ramon. That was before the boom. Before people discovered the good suburban life ... "City close, Country quiet." It all seems so very long ago. And it was. Way back in 1962.

Pleasanton commissions

PLEASANTON — Like any modern municipality, the city abounds with boards and commissions designed to give citizens input into just about every civic decision that can be made.

Here's a rundown of the commissions — who they are, what they do, who is on them and where they meet.

City Council — Five council members are the final authority on zoning and land use decisions, set the city tax rate annually, issue proclamations, and occasionally get off into areas having to do with none of the above.

Regular council meetings occur the second and fourth Mondays of the month at 8 p.m. in the City Council Chambers, 30 W. Angela St.

Current council members are Mayor Robert Philcox, Vice - mayor Joyce LeClaire, and members William Herlihy, Frank Brandes and Ken Mercer. Elections are in spring of even - numbered years. Terms of Philcox and LeClaire expire in 1978, the others in 1980.

Planning commission — Five planning commissioners are the first citizens to see planning and zoning proposals from small and large developers and individual property owners. Most decisions go on to the city council for final review.

The general plan, which deserves a heading of its own, is the city's long - range development plan. It tells what kind of land uses will occur in each part of the city. Over the years many homeowners opposing apartments and other developments in their neighborhood have belatedly discovered the existence of the general plan, usually with a ritual chorus, "Gee, the salesman never told us about that."

The commission meets regularly at 8 p.m. on the second Wednesday of the month in the City Council Chambers. Commissioners are Chairperson Bob Butler and Walt Wood, Gregg Doherty, Bill Jamieson, and Dave Shepherd. Like all other city commissioners, they serve four year terms and are appointed by the city council.

Housing authority — This group of seven commissioners is appointed by the city council, but the board is operated independently under state law and has its own staff and attorney. The group administers two public housing projects, Kottinger Place, 50 units of senior citizen housing on Kottinger Avenue, and Komandorski Village, 174 units of public housing on Daugherty Road just north of Pleasanton. Komandorski Village was built during World War II as "temporary" housing. Plans are to replace it, probably on the same site, with new public housing.

Housing authority alternates its meetings between Kottinger Place and Komandorski Village at 8 p.m. on the third Wednesday of the month. Staff offices are at Komandorski Village.

Commissioners are Chairperson Penny Delaray and Christine Pearson, John Hansen, Cecilia Governor, Dawn Gordner, and Pat Broughton.

Park and recreation Commission — This group deals with policy affecting the city's recreation programs and the maintenance and construction of park improvements. It meets at 8 p.m. the fourth Wednesday of the month in the City Council Chambers.

Commissioners are Chairperson Jerry Wilfley and Kathy O'Brien, Howard Garrigan, Chuck Gielow, Jr., and Hank Gomez.

Human Services Commission — This is the city's newest commission and will deal with citizens' social problems. Right now it is conducting a survey of social needs in the community with an eye to recommendations to the city council. It meets on the first Wednesday of the month at 8 p.m. in the City Council Chambers.

Commissioners are Chairperson Sharon Kosch and Diana Leathers, Barbara Hemphill, Phil Cooper, Phyllis Bullock, Dave Shepherd, Christine Pearson, and Kathy O'Brien.

City staff

Clerk and secretary to the city manager. She takes notes at council meetings and handles all the records.

The recreation and human resources department has a staff specializing in many things. Bob Caporusso is the department's overall director. Ann Carroll is recreation coordinator and has an office at the Cultural Arts Center in Amador Community Park. Dan Diez works with youth at Westwind Center and with senior citizens. Dianne McKenna is staff person for the Human Resources Commission and deals with any social problems citizens may want to bring to the city's attention. Dolores Bengtson is in charge of the city's swimming program and can be reached at the pool or through the city hall phone number.

The city's director of public safety is Walt McClelland and the acting police chief is Ron Nelson. Bert Cherry is the acting fire chief.
